Extra-special thanks to Mr. Doug Haley, our yearbook than the rest of us combined!

Roosevelt High School is a beautiful building, but what really gives it its character is people—people who attend classes, people who teach, people who help keep the school going in many ways. Roosevelt is involved in an ever-growing, ever-changing process, shaped by the people. We are responsible for making Roosevelt a place to be proud of, and we were responsible for making the 1977-78 school year one to be proud of. Every person at Roosevelt holds an equal share of this book. Remember that 1978 was special, because we were there.

ACTIVITIES

1978 was an exciting year for Roosevelt. Our debate team was first in the state, and several members went on to Nationals in the summer. Our jazz band was also outstanding. But this is the story, in words and pictures, of an event that unified the entire school. We begin our story as the Roosevelt Roughrider boys basketball team entered the state tournament. The games were played at Veterans Memorial Auditorium. Vice-Principal Jerry Curnutt sold tickets, the demand for which increased as the competition progressed.

Then came the action. The starters felt the burden of 1200 students on their backs as they dribbled down the court. Coaches and other players sweated it out on the sidelines, the latter nervously waiting for their chance to go in. The cheerleaders led the crowd in ceaseless support for their team.

Signs were posted around the school building all week, and there was a big pep rally before our first tournament game against Davenport West. The rally was reminiscent of the 1968 tournament, with a march through the halls and more spirit displayed than the apathetic '70's could recall. We were fired up!

Then it was over. We had beaten Davenport West, Carroll Kuemper, and finally Dubuque Wahlert to take the crown. Roosevelt went wild. Spectators flooded onto the floor, shouting and embracing. Forefingers waved high in the air, and "We're Number One!" resounded throughout the huge auditorium. The cameras followed behind as the victors marched off.

But the story goes on . . .

The next day, a Sunday, a special assembly was held in the Roosevelt gym. Former TRHS alumnus and basketball starter Governor Robert Ray spoke, and Mayor Richard Olson presented Coach Ron Adcock and his team with keys to the city.

Monday at school, the victory bell rang through the halls. At an all-school assembly in the auditorium, every team member got a chance to speak and congratulate each other once more. There was dancing in the gym. Later, Roosevelt received a copy of a special Senate Resolution introduced by Senators Phil Hill and Dave Readinger. The tournament was over, but it made the 1978 school year memorable for Roosevelt and Des Moines.

2 the Roosevelt High School Roughriders basketball team.
3 Whereas, the Roosevelt Roughriders boys basketball
4 team of Roosevelt High School of Des Moines, Iowa has 5 won the class 3-A boys basketball tournament; and 6 Whereas, the Roughriders were termed by many persons
7 to be "underdogs" or "dark horses" in the state class 3-A
8 boys basketball tournament but the Roughriders by exhibit-
9 ing an exciting, fast-breaking, devil-may-care, run-and-
10 shoot style of basketball overcame their ratings and won
11 the 1978 state class 3-A high school basketball champion-12 ship; and
13 Whereas, the Roosevelt High School Roughriders exhibited
14 team spirit and teamwork which throughout the 1977-1978
15 season deemphasized individual performances and resulted 16 in various team members achieving high standards of 17 performance throughout the season; Now Therefore,
18 Be It Resolved by the Senate, the House Concurring.
19 That recognition and congratulations be extended to the

Homecoming early, begins year of RHS activities

Homecoming was one of the first events of the 1977-78 school year at Roosevelt. Activities began with "Blue & White Day" and "Hat Day" at school Friday, September 23. "R" Club sold mums and ribbons for Homecoming weekend. Senior Julie Dickinson was elected Homecoming Queen at the assembly held that day. The assembly also featured the mimes and the jazz band.

The Homecoming game was at 7:30 p.m. The Riders faced the East Scarlet at Williams Field and led, 6-0, at half-time. It then began to rain, so the remainder of the game was postponed until the next day. The Riders suffered a close defeat of 14-12.

"Odyssey" was the theme of the Homecoming Dance arranged by Student Council and held Saturday night from 8 to 11 p.m. The Roosevelt gym was decorated in black, white, gold, and silver. A mirrored ball hung from the ceiling, and couples danced to the music of the band "Last Shades of Dawn." A photographer from John Roberts Studio was on hand to take couples' pictures for $5.

Other members of the Homecoming court were seniors Jennifer Vickery, Betsey Teigland, Kay VanHorn, Debbie Vaughan, and Ann Stines. Jane Lynch was the junior attendant, and Lisa Dishman was the sophomore attendant.

Community involvement goal of fall student council

The goal of the fall student council was to involve the student body in school and community activities not covered by specialized organizations.

This year's council started out with an ERA (Equal Rights Amendment) assembly, featuring speaker Peg Cass.

Doughnut sales were another new idea initiated by the fall council and conducted in the cafeteria Thursday mornings. Tom Schulz, Jody Valentine, and Mary MacKinnon managed the sales.

The council sponsored a Disco Dance after the first basketball game of the season. Chairperson was Julie Green, and she was aided by Kris Garrison, Lori Utterback, and Tom Schulz.

Something that was renewed this year and which many students hope will become a tradition was the celebration of Teddy Roosevelt's birthday. Special activities included a luncheon, a bulletin board display, and a blue-and-white day.

Bill Sullivan was chairperson.

A pizza-eating marathon for the Greater Des Moines Epilepsy Society was held, with Marla Dille in charge.

Several groups in the community benefited from petitions the council passed around. These included a petition for a minority radio station and a petition for the debaters to receive letters for their competition.

Student council also put together the Homecoming dance using the theme "Odyssey." Preparations included the assembly, with crowning of Homecoming Queen Julie Dickinson.

Officers of this year's fall student council were Lori Utterback, president; Tom Stearley, vice-president; Anne Paxton, secretary; and Tom Schulz, treasurer.

"I feel the fall council had an exciting semester and feel a lot was accomplished," stated Lori.

Layout changes, special features new for Fall Roundup

Kim Hansen and Marva Engelen paste copy onto the "dummy sheets" for the Roundup newspaper.

The Roosevelt Roundup newspaper began with a staff of 17. Karen Mitchell served as editor, with Julie Guthrie as managing editor.

The fall Roundup tried several new things. One was a change in the layout for the second page. The editorial column was moved, and movie reviews were included as a regular feature. For the issue at Christmas time, the staff had part of the paper printed in green ink.

This year's four cheerleading squads were active at football games, swim meets, wrestling and track meets, and sophomore and varsity basketball games. All varsity cheerleaders received new uniforms this year.

The football cheerleaders sold candy bars to raise money for their jerseys. Co-captains were Kay VanHorn and Julie Sandler.

The wrestling cheerleaders attended a clinic during the summer, and they cheered at both cross country and wrestling meets. They were led by Captain DeeAnn Arthurs.

The basketball cheerleaders, headed by Co-captains Peggy Sullivan and Rosemary Randolph, attended clinics in Ames and Pella, and took first place at the latter. They were kept busy during the State Tournament.

Mr. Jerald Curnutt, Ms. Caroline Egli, and Ms. Margaret Maloney were this year's sponsors.

Mimes reflect times

The Mimes have long been known to satirize current events from both local and national levels. Their spring Mime Night was called "Close Encounters of the Mime Kind," a twist on the popular science fiction film "Close Encounters of the Third Kind." Parodies on other recent movies, including "STAR WARS" and "Saturday Night Fever," were seen in performances throughout the year. Television shows like "Six Million Dollar Man" were also targets. Sometimes situations around Roosevelt provided material, as in the case of the state basketball tournament. Whatever's happening, the Mimes reflect the times.

Two mime nights this year, dozens of shows

Unique drama, without words—sometimes comic, sometimes near-tragic, but always fascinating—was the contribution of the Mimes to this year at Roosevelt. The troupe, the first of its kind in Des Moines and one of the first in Iowa, continued its tradition of service by entertaining at dozens of school and public functions.

The group performed two complete Mime Night programs, one each semester, and both were enthusiastically received. Another highlight was an appearance before the Irish Friendship Force visitors at Southridge Mall. As usual, they added their special spice to pep assemblies, the Homecoming Assembly, and the Spinsters Spree Assembly. Before school had even started they were in makeup and leotards and entertaining thousands at the Iowa State Fair.

December was their busiest month with five performances, among them one for the Office Education banquet and another at Hanawalt School. The first Mime night show went on December 8 before a small but appreciative crowd, despite a blizzard.

Among second semester appearances were between-acts entertainment at the Sharks Pageant, and the May 8 Mime Night.

Master Mime for the year was Jon Jones. Senior members were Diane Norris, Laura Reese, Ted Johnson, Tim Johnson, Burns Stanfield, Sharon Nussbaum, and Lori Utterback. Junior Mimes were Nancy Voigts, Julie Green, Kevin Hensley, and Carol Blome.

Sponsor was Mr. Everett Craft.

Theatre Roosevelt supports plays, holds meetings

Theatre Roosevelt is composed of both Drama Club and International Thespian members. Theatre Roosevelt supported the plays by selling tickets, and most members were in the casts and crews. At the beginning of the year, a committee from Theatre Roosevelt selected the plays to be presented.

Theatre Roosevelt co-sponsored the Guthrie Theatre trip in October, helping with bookwork and publicity.

The group held fairly regular meetings at which they conducted business and did improvisational drama. In May, there was an initiation of new members and the election of next year's officers.

This year's officers were Ted Johnson, president; Katherine MacKinnon, vice-president; Heather Stanfield, secretary; Brad Carpenter, treasurer; and Julie Freimuth, scribe. Mr. R.C. Anderson was the sponsor.

Murder, suspense in fall play "Ten Little Indians"

Agatha Christie's murder mystery "Ten Little Indians" was the first Roosevelt play of the 1977-78 school year. Presented November 11 and 12, it received one of the best audience turnouts in several years.

Ten unsuspecting victims are lured to Indian Island, off the coast of England, where they are stranded and systematically murdered. When the victims discover that the killer is one of them, the race is on for both audience and players to figure out "whodunit."

Joe Dunn, as the bumbling Detective Blore, leads the investigation. Maybe the butler did it; David Becker as Rogers and Kate MacKinnon as his disgruntled wife were likely candidates, or perhaps the brash young Anthony Marston—Tom Monachino—was the mastermind. A suspenseful climax and a surprise ending bring the play to a successful close.

Mr. Roger Anderson directed the play, and Mr. Art Holcomb was the technical director.

Vocalist added this year; individuals win honors

Roosevelt Jazz Band had a successful year. It received three first places, one second place, and one third place in awards at area jazz festivals. The group placed third in the Iowa Jazz Championships.

Junior Chris Snyder was a new addition to the jazz band this year. She was a vocalist, and her singing was well received.

Seniors Clark West and Barb McKenzie were outstanding saxophone players, each receiving many honors. Seniors Laura Reese and Mark Williams were also honored. They played piano and trumpet, respectively. Bass guitarist player Forest Stewart, a junior, accumulated honors as well.

The jazz band gave numerous performances throughout the year in and around the Des Moines community. Mr. Harold Jansen directed the group.

Band participates in parades, concerts

"The instrumental music department had a fine year that saw many individual and group awards being received. 'West Side Story' was one of those events where various segments in the department had a chance to work together—and with great success. The 1977-78 school year will be one that is long remembered," said Mr. Harold Jansen, band director.

The marching band went to State Marching Contest and received a II rating. The band received a I rating in State Large Group Contest. There were also many parades and concerts in which the band participated throughout the year.

The band executive committee included Clark West, president; Tom Rutt, vice-president; Deirdre Robinson, secretary; and Amy Fobes, treasurer.

Orchestra active in contests, tours; Hoedown highlights year

Under the direction of Ms. Sandra Tatge and Mr. Harold Jansen, the orchestra participated in many concerts and activities. The year began with an ice cream social in September. All State tryouts were held later in the fall, and seven orchestra members were accepted.

The orchestra gave its traditional winter concert at Roosevelt in December. In January, it made a tour of nearby elementary schools, including Hanawalt, Greenwood, Windsor, and Hubbell. The Band-Orchestra Marathon was held in February.

A highlight of the year was the Orchestra Hoedown, an evening of fiddlin' music and fun. Pie and coffee were served, and everyone got a chance to try squaredancing.

Several groups from the orchestra received a I rating at State Solo & Small Group Contest in March, and both the full orchestra and the string orchestra received I ratings at State Large Group Contest in May.

In April, Roosevelt participated in the Ames Orchestra Invitational and provided music for "West Side Story."

Suzanne McDaniel, Jane Miller, Mary MacKinnon, Prudence McDaniel, Mary Zielke, and Kris Thornwall were part of the Ames International Orchestra Festival Youth Symphony in May. The orchestra finished its year with a concert at McCombs Junior High and a picnic.

The orchestra executive committee members were Brad Carpenter, president; Suzanne McDaniel, vice-president; and Becky Campney, secretary-treasurer.

Flaggies, Color Guard, Riderettes perform with band

When the marching band performed in parades or football games or went to contests, it was accompanied by three other groups.

Captain Laura Reese led the Flaggies in routines such as the swingy "Basin Street Blues." They used both small and large flags for their performances.

The Color Guard, headed by Chris Snyder, carried and twirled rifles.

Sandra McNeal and Twyla Lee were the co-captains of Riderettes. Several members had attended camps during the summer and brought back ideas for new routines. The Riderettes performed at basketball games as well as in the other activities with the band. Some of their routines were "Get Up and Boogie," "Jet," "Rocky," "Gospel John," and "Shop Around." The Riderettes held several bake sales and a skating party.

These groups also went with the band to Washington, D.C. over spring break.

Concerts at RHS, around Des Moines

Roosevelt's swing choir, T.E.D.—The Early Dawn, so named because of its 7 a.m. rehearsals—gave many performances around the Des Moines community this year. These included the Isaac Walton League, the UN First Day of Issue Ceremony, and Heather Manor, a nursing home.

The Concert Choir and Treble Choir joined T.E.D. for performances at the YWCA, Des Moines Savings, Callanan Junior High, and Merle Hay Mall. Two concerts were given at Roosevelt, one in the winter, one in the spring.

The three vocal music groups are led by Mr. Delbert Schiebel.

46 to Guthrie Theater group sees two plays

On October 22, a bus carrying 43 Roosevelt students and 3 faculty sponsors departed for Minneapolis on the eleventh annual Guthrie Theater trip.

Arriving in the early afternoon, the group saw Noel Coward's "Design for Living," then were dropped off at a shopping center for supper. They dined at various eateries such as My Pi and The Jolly Troll. In the evening, Oliver Goldsmith's comedy "She Stoops to Conquer" was presented.

Drama teacher R.C. Anderson and Mr. and Ms. Bill Freimuth accompanied the students. Cost for the trip was $22, including the price of bus fare and tickets for the two plays. The trip is held to give students the opportunity to see experimental productions of classic plays performed by a professional acting company.

Roosevelt delegation tours UN

Seven Roosevelt students were selected for the UN trip this year. Sponsored by the UN Association, the purpose of the trip is to introduce students to the UN and the government in Washington, D.C., and also to promote unity among the students of Polk County. The trip was taken over spring break. Only juniors were selected so that members of the group would be about the same in age and interests. Many of the friendships started during the trip carry over into the students' senior year. Juniors who applied for the trip were accepted on the basis of academic record, extracurricular activities, and recommendations of the school. About 250 applied; 148 could be accepted.

Students on the trip spent one day at the UN, and later met with their Congressman. While in New York City, the group took a 4½-hour bus tour of Manhattan, and saw the Empire State Building, the Statue of Liberty, and Radio City Music Hall. One evening they attended the Broadway production of "Annie."

Tours in Washington, D.C. included the Washington, Jefferson, and Lincoln Monuments, the Capitol, the Smithsonian Institute, the Library of Congress, the National Archives, the FBI Building, the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, the Naval Academy, Mount Vernon, the Washington Cathedral, Ford's Theater, and the Kennedy Center.

Students from Iran, Brazil, Europe attend TRHS

Five foreign students attended Roosevelt this year. Junior Hossein Alavi started at Roosevelt last year and will stay to be graduated next year. He also plans to attend college in the United States before returning to his family in Iran.

Senior Rogerio Aguiar came from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. He noted that it was harder to make friends in America, but that the school work was easier. In Brazil he had class for five hours a day, either in the morning, afternoon, or evening.

Joelle Hirsch's home is Neuilly-sur-Seine, a suburb of Paris. She had already graduated from high school in France. She spent some time on a farm in Fort Dodge before arriving in Des Moines. She enjoyed trips to New York and New Orleans with her host family, and she participated in French Club activities at Roosevelt.

Regner Hansen had also been graduated from school when he came to Roosevelt. He planned to enroll in a four-year course at a journalism school similar to the American college when he returned to Denmark. Regner had been a Danish correspondent for Track and Field News for three years, so he was interested in journalism at Roosevelt. He worked on the sports section of the Roundup first semester, and was art editor of ACTION Magazine second semester. He also played soccer on the Roosevelt team.

Reidar Skorpen arrived at Roosevelt at an opportune time. A basketball player, Reidar joined the team that became state champions. It was an experience he will "never forget." Reidar attended a "gymnasium" in his native Norway. At this school, he chose his profession and was assigned courses according to his field of study. He returned after his year at Roosevelt.

French Club busy, starts new Ensemble Musical

French Club continued to be the largest club at Roosevelt, with membership of about 130 this year.

The first activity was a picnic in September featuring the new Ensemble Musical, a group headed by Katherine MacKinnon and consisting of instrumentalists to accompany the singing.

On October 21, the seventh annual French Club Bake Sale was held in the student center. French delicacies were offered, and the club netted about $120.

In November, there was a Circle de la Conversation, a dinner where only French was spoken. Later that month, club members enjoyed lunch at Alouette, a new French restaurant in Des Moines.

The club held its traditional holiday party December 18.

In February, the club went to Pella and saw a performance of Le Treteau de Paris, a troupe of professional French actors. The show included Eugene Ionesco's comedy play, "La Cantatrice Chauve," and poems and sketches by Jacques Prevert.

The club held a progressive French dinner in March. Later in the spring, French Club was well-represented at the Arts Fair. The Ensemble Musical and French Club Chorus performed, and the club had a stand with gourmet goodies.

Heidi Fatland was the club president first semester; Sue VerSteeg held the office during second semester. Other officers were Daryl Fingerman, vice-president; Liz Rodgers, secretary; and Brad Carpenter, treasurer. Mr. Gary Thelen was the club sponsor.

Spanish Club doubles membership, has various activities

Due largely to effort on the part of its officers, the Roosevelt Spanish Club doubled its membership this year. The club began with a membership drive and dinner in the fall, and part of the group went to see the Ballet Folklorico Mexicano at C.Y. Stephens Auditorium in Ames.

Although they were unable to reach their goal of a trip to Mexico over spring break, members used the money they earned from selling M&Ms candies for other social activities. Another dinner was held, and the group traveled to Ames again, this time to see Jose Molinas-Baile Espanoles.

Members of Spanish Club were asked to participate in Pan-American Day in the spring. The group sang at Weeks Junior High, Tech High, and Val Air Ballroom.

Many students were able to use their Spanish in helping to translate for the group of Venezuelans who visited Des Moines as part of the Friendship Force in April.

The executive officers of the club were Bill Blakely, president; Sharon Nussbaum, vice-president; Kerry Mitchell, treasurer; Denise Griemann, secretary; and Anne Kong, publicity chairperson. Mr. Fred Pratt was the club sponsor.

Afro Club gets involved, has numerous projects

Afro Club was involved in a variety of projects this year. One of their goals was to help members prepare for college by keeping them informed about opportunities, scholarships, and tests.

The club had a speaker come in the fall. She was Ms. Stephanie Michael, a 1974 Roosevelt graduate, and she spoke on the topic "Where do we go from here?".

The club had a bake sale to raise funds.

"Reach Out and Touch Somebody's Hand" was the theme of the club's variety show. It was given during school March 8.

In April, Afro Club sponsored a vocal music program featuring Therron Thomas. The club also participated in the Arts Fair, with an exhibit, a sandwich sale, and entertainment by the Afro Club dancers.

The group concluded its activities with a potluck picnic in May.

First semester officers were Darryl Michael, president; Andrea Miller, vice-president; Gordette Brown, secretary; and Tara Wells, treasurer. Second semester officers were DeeAnn Davis, president; Kevin Wilson, vice-president; Marsha Cooper, secretary; and Lori Miller, treasurer. Ms. Joyce Fant was the club sponsor.

"Charley's Aunt" provides laughs for winter play

"Charley's Aunt," a farce by Brandon Thomas, was presented at Roosevelt February 24 and 25. Costumes borrowed from Simpson College helped complete the 1890's setting of the play.

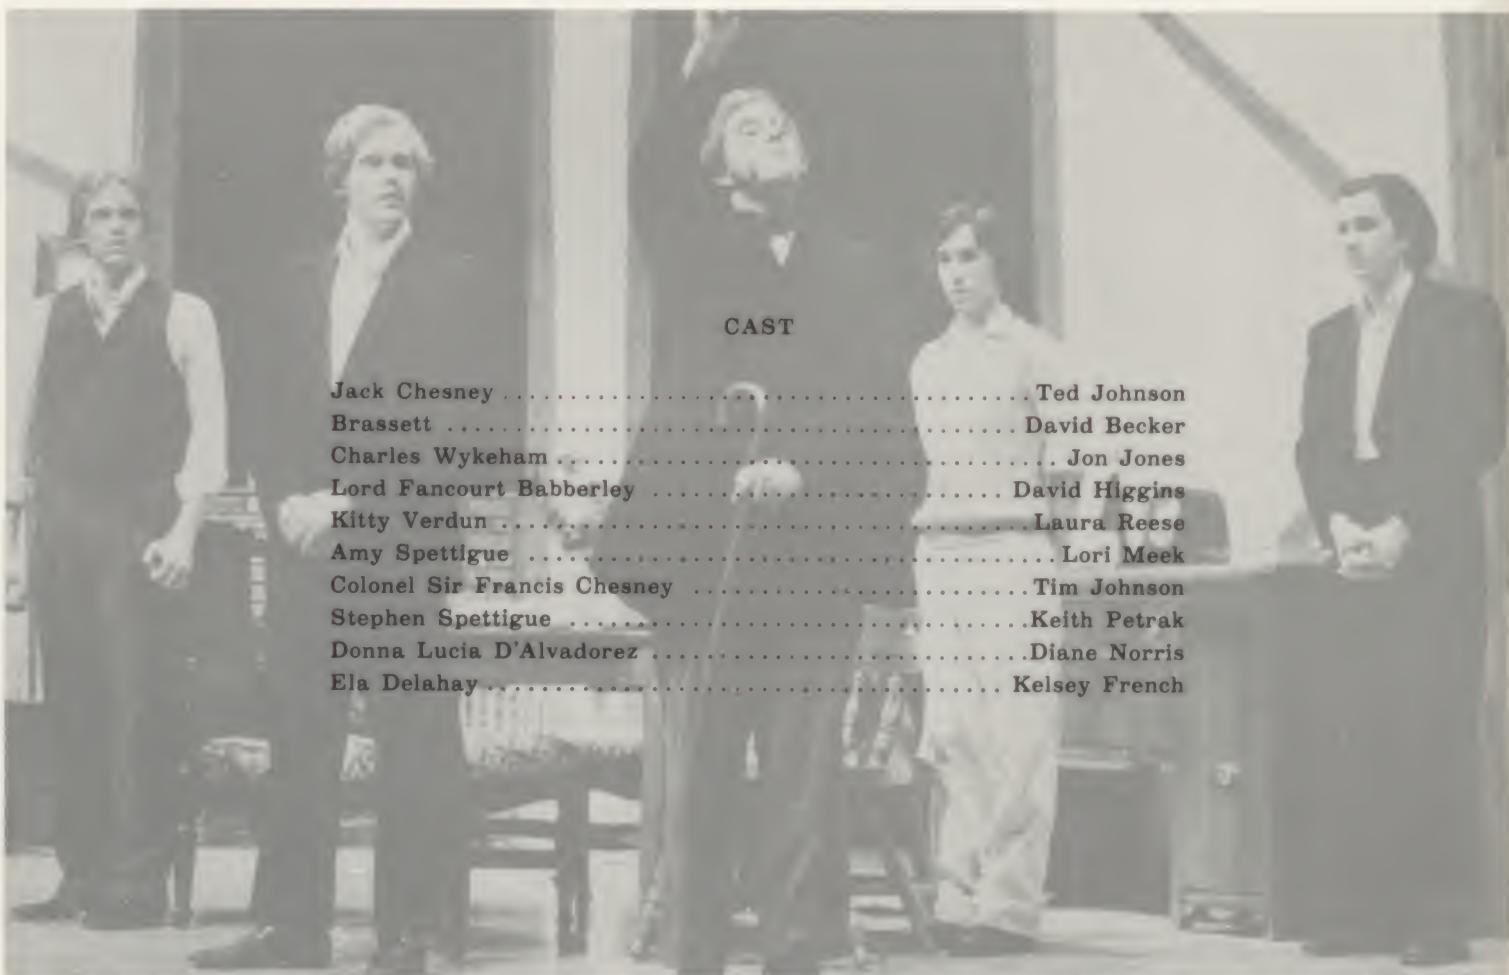

Ted Johnson and Jon Jones played the aggressive Jack Chesney and his reluctant friend Charley Wykeham, two young Oxford students in love with Kitty Verdun and Amy Spettigue, played by Laura Reese and Lori Meek.

David Higgins kept the audience laughing with his portrayal of Fancourt Babberley, the boy who poses as the aunt. Keith Petrak was also amusing as the flustered Uncle Spettigue.

Mr. R. C. Anderson directed the play, and Mr. Art Holcomb was the technical director. Lisa Anderson and Julie Freimuth were the student directors.

1978: Debaters are state champs, too!

The boys basketball team wasn't the only Roosevelt group to win a state championship this year. The 1978 debate team won the Iowa High School Speech Association state championship for the first time since 1932. Seniors Sue VerSteeg and Tom Stearley took first place, seniors Mike Mintzer and Bill Hayes took third place, and senior Dave Copley and junior Kevin Hensley took fifth.

Four debaters qualified for the National speech tournament held in June at Northwestern University in Evanston, Illinois. They accomplished this by winning the district NFL, National Forensics League, or state title. These students were seniors Katherine MacKinnon, Dramatic Interpretation; Heidi Fatland, Humorous Interpretation; Brad Carpenter, Original Oratory; and junior Kevin Hensley, Mens Extemporaneous Speaking.

"Roosevelt debate had their most successful season ever," commented Coach Donna Siers. The team won over 130 trophies in various Iowa tournaments this year.

Second year for "R" Club, group busy as ever

The second year of "R" Club's existence found it just as active as ever, and just as eager to incorporate the male half of the school into its activities as before. Federal fiat to the contrary, however, Roosevelt's boys did not heed the many invitations to join and the club continued to be almost exclusively female.

A bake sale at registration was the opening project of the group, and before September was over, the Fall Fest mixer, the Homecoming mum sale, and the Krazy Kake contest had been completed.

At the Fall Fest sophomores were welcomed to the school, "R" Club activities were explained, and the chairpersons signed up committee members.

Juniors Julie Green and Stacy Seltzer were creators of the winning Krazy Kake, a giant Monopoly board which exhorted, "Monopolize the Maroons." Sale of the 23 cakes in the student center fattened the club purse, as well as Roosevelt tummies.

The Thanksgiving canned food drive for a needy family was the next club project. Plans were already in the works, too, for the Spinsters Spree, as themes were narrowed down to two choices, "Camelot" and "Las Vegas." Redesignated "A Night on the Town," the gambling theme prevailed. In the meantime, club members did their part for the Riders' surprising basketball team by decorating lockers, organizing pep assemblies, and providing treats.

A letter to the boys of the school in the January 18 Roundup, from senior Jane Miller, again urged them to join the club's activities. The response was the usual deafening silence. It was time, however, for the "Mr. Legs" contest, and despite themselves the boys became participants. Chairperson Liz Grimes found no lack of candidates, and ballot boxes were stuffed with loose change as the voting continued. The winner was senior Tom Donnelly, and the club treasury was enriched.

It was time now for Spree, and the club members went into a frenzy of ticket sales, booth planning, and decorating. Seniors Gaylord Houston, Craig Worman, Bob Harris, and Dan Shuck were Man of the Year candidates. Mounting basketball fever, as the Riders fought their way through the district competition, added to the excitement of the dance plans.

The night of March 11 came, the dance went off beautifully, an enthusiastic crowd saw Houston crowned Man of the Year, and the school's biggest in-school social event of the year was a resounding success, financially as well as for fun.

Selection of officers for the next school year was among the last of "R" Club's 1977-78 activities. Succeeding senior Lori Kelderman as president was junior Katie Boyle. Junior Jane Lynch was named vice-president, succeeding Cathy Boresi. Junior Liz Grimes was the new secretary, and junior Suzanne Helmick the treasurer, replacing seniors Jane Miller, and Gail Smith, respectively. Chairing committees this year were Boyle, Publicity; Lynch, Historian; Grimes, Activity Coordinator; Helmick, Election; senior Pam Coyle, Social; senior Barb Betts, Friendship; senior Jennifer Vickery, School Spirit; senior Diane Norris, Assembly; junior Nancy Voigts, School Beautiful; and senior Julie Guthrie, Homeroom Coordinator. Sophomore Susan Guthrie, junior Liz Hill, and senior Julie Dickinson were grade representatives.

Spree 1978: "A Night on the Town"

Spinsters' Spree, the annual spring dance sponsored by "R" Club, was held Saturday night, May 11, in the Roosevelt gym. The theme for the semi-formal dance was "A Night on the Town." Planning began all the way back in September. Senior Pam Coyle chaired the committee that worked on the dance.

An assembly featuring the Mimes and the jazz band was held during school earlier in the week, and the finalists for Man of the Year were each presented to the student body with a slide show and brief summary of his life and contributions to Roosevelt. The four candidates were seniors Bob Harris, a wrestler; Gaylord Houston, a basketball player; Dan Shuck, a football player; and Craig Worman, also a basketball player. The basketball team's trek towards the state tournament contributed to the excitement of the dance plans.

Upon arriving at the dance, each couple received a packet of play money, to be used at the various gambling booths organized by "R" Club committee heads. A few of the teachers were also involved with running the games. Mr. Pat Puetz and Mr. Dick Hewins were blackjack dealers, and Mr. Tom Long ran a roulette game.

Other games included a slot machine, a "balloon bust," a dice game, and a game of chance. Every half hour, bets were taken for "horse racing." Actual films of races from Ak-Sar-Ben were shown. For debtors who ran out of "money," there was a jail. Also featured were a telegram sending service and helium balloons bearing the name of the dance.

Midway through the dance was the ceremony crowning Man of the Year. Houston was chosen.

As usual, a photographer from John Roberts Studio was on hand to take couples' pictures for $5. Pop and pretzels were served up in the student center, renamed "The Pink Flamingo Lounge" for the evening. Couples danced to the music of the band "Antelon."

Near the close of the evening, all "money" was turned in to the Teller Booth. The money was counted, and the five couples who had accumulated the most through "gambling" won $20

"Rhapsody and Rhythm" at Sharks pageant

Sharks Club had its annual pageant April 13, 14, and 15. The show was titled "Rhapsody and Rhythm," and featured a theme of contrast between jazz and classical music.

Plans for the pageant began in December. The group practiced walk-throughs every day for a month, then started to rehearse in the pool in March.

Senior Lori Shimp was the pageant soloist, performing to Rachmaninoff's "Symphony Number Two." Seniors Desda Saunders and Barb Minkler also chose a classical piece for their duet, and swam to music from "The Hall of the Mountain King." In another duet, seniors Barb Betts and Cory Michel used "Waltz of the Flowers" from "The Nutcracker Suite."

By contrast, a trio of seniors Karen Gangeness, Rita McBride, and Ann Stines chose a jazz tune, "Rhumba Mama."

Many new stunts were introduced at this year's pageant, which both delighted and awed the audience. Senior Ted Johnson served as Master of Ceremonies, and several members of the Roosevelt Mimes entertained between numbers to allow time for costume changes and other preparations by the Sharks. Despite a few technical difficulties the first night, the show was a success.

Sharks officers for this year were Desda Saunders, president; Lori Shimp, vice-president; Barb Minkler, secretary; Karen Gangeness, treasurer; and Sarah Betts, junior treasurer. Ms. Ann Miller was the group sponsor.

Roosevelt goes Puerto Rican for spring production

Roosevelt's Music Theatre class presented the 1950's musical, "West Side Story," April 28 and 29. Although it was a difficult play to produce, it proved to be a challenge that Roosevelt could handle. Audience turnout and reception was excellent, and the production was a success.

Sarah Betts and Jon Jones gave touching performances as the ill-fated young lovers, and Joe Dunn led the Jets in the rollicking "Gee, Officer Krupke" number that turned out to be the audience favorite. Diane Norris was outstanding as Anita in both singing and dancing. Norris and Brad Carpenter, Tom Monachino, and Christy Alsip whirled through their Puerto Rican dance numbers with great flourish. The large group numbers, such as the dance in the gymnasium, were done well. The rumble was suspenseful, and the end of the play was both exciting and sad.

From the red haze of the Manhattan skyline to the graffiti on the walls, the set designed by Ted Johnson vividly captured the atmosphere of the production.

The Roosevelt production was under the direction of Mr. R.C. Anderson. Mr. Delbert Scheibel was the vocal director, and choreography was done by Ms. Donna Alsip. Mr. Harold Jansen conducted the orchestra, and Mr. Art Holcomb was the technical director. Rumbles were staged by Tobin Larson. David Copley was the student director.

"People" theme prevails in 1978 yearbook

The yearbook staff was chosen in the fall of 1978. Senior Lori Meek, as editor, headed the group. Since the staff was almost totally female—only three staff members, all photographers, were male—they started off with a slumber party. (No, the guys weren't invited.) This unique approach gave them the opportunity to get ideas rolling, set goals, and select a theme. The group decided on a "people" theme.

However, the excitement of being a staff member soon faded into the tedium of schoolwork, jobs, and winter doldrums. Planning was slow, and postponing the inevitable was too easy. Finally, along with spring came the realization that there had to be an effort made. Pictures were taken, and copy was written and rewritten. In the oppressive heat of late June, the last pages went off to the printer.

Inter-Collegiate Press was the publisher of this book, and Mr. Paul Havnen was the company representative.

Tournament coverage, interview series in spring Roundup

The spring Roundup staff consisted of 18 members, headed by editor Laura Reese. Although the group was smaller than usual, it handled the job smoothly and included many new features.

Lee Ashby had a column in which he reviewed music from various recent albums.

In addition to his "Radical Ronald" column, Joe Dunn ran a regular series of interviews with Roosevelt graduates. Some had become prominent in the Des Moines community, such as Governor Robert Ray, Register & Tribune editor Michael Gartner, and TV-8 sports reporter Pete Taylor. He talked with a 1930 alumnus as well as with two recent graduates who had developed interesting hobbies, and he captured the views of Coach Ron Adcock, also a former Roosevelt student, after the state championship.

The spring Roundup staff carried the excitement of the state basketball tournament across the top of the front page in blue ink: RIDERS TAKE STATE! Coverage of the week's events was also printed in blue.

The fourteenth volume of ACTION Magazine was distributed to subscribers in homeroom May 12. Published by the Journalism 3 class, the 32-page magazine included poetry, artwork, fiction, and non-fiction by Roosevelt students.

Following the theme of "The Way We Are," articles in the magazine dealt with current issues such as the growing popularity of dancing, the influence of America on a foreign student's country, hitchhiking, collectors, how it feels to be the governor's daughter, and—of course—winning the state basketball championship.

Julie Mitchell was the editor, and Stacy Peterson served as assistant editor. Karen Mitchell, Cathy Boresi, Nile Hartline, and Regner Hansen handled fiction, non-fiction, poetry, and art respectively. At the business end of the magazine were Bill Landis, Lori Kelderman, Kim Fisher, and Marva Engelen. Mr. Donald Haley was the sponsor.

Ms. Corrine Brightman, the printer at Heartland Educational Agency, said that she enjoyed working with the staff members. She liked the way they did their camera-ready pasteups, and was pleased that they met their deadlines on time.

Spring Council debates senior finals, resumes Fun Night

The spring Student Council was active in many ways. President Tom Stearley initiated a proposal that would eliminate second semester finals for seniors. The issue was not resolved, but Stearley hoped that next year's Council would continue to work on it.

After the state basketball tournament, Student Council sold T-shirts that proclaimed the Rider victory. They also gave one to Governor Ray.

The spring Council resumed the annual Fun Night, which had been dropped last year due to lack of interest. Roller skating, basketball, volleyball, movies, dancing, tinikling, a cakewalk, and a pudding-eating contest were features of the evening. There was a good turnout, and all who came enjoyed themselves.

Spring Student Council again supported the Arts Fair with the art department. This was the third year of the jointly sponsored festival.

Other spring Student Council officers were Jeff Kreamer, first vice-president; Sandi Halliburton, second vice-president; and Maura Robinson, secretary.

"Creativity Carnival" theme of 1978 Arts Fair

"A visual arts display," as termed by Ms. Susan Lewis, described the total experience of the third annual Arts Fair. "Creativity Carnival" took place April 29 in the halls of Roosevelt.

"Creativity Carnival" encompassed all aspects of the visual art world. Over a hundred students were involved in displaying and presenting their interpretation of the arts. Vocal, instrumental, and dance presentations were featured in addition to the tableau-style displays. Highlights of the activities included a hot air balloon presentation by senior Jeff Thompson and student-produced films shown throughout the day. Various clubs sold food and other items.

Ms. Lewis was the sponsor of the Arts Fair this year. It was supported by the art department and Student Council. Student co-chairpersons were seniors Lynn Ward and Heather Cofer. Juniors Julie Green and Kathy Keables assisted them.

Although the weather prevented the Arts Fair from being outdoors as originally planned, several hundred people attended. Ms. Lewis said that it was "extremely satisfying for all students involved."

Students help with taping

This has been a busy year for the V.T.R. (Video Tape Recorder) crew. Some of the activities in addition to regular classroom projects have been taping of the marching band competition, the Afro Club assembly, the Sharks Pageant, "West Side Story," debating practices, and diving practices. The group was supervised by Ms. Ruby Wells.

Students on the AV (Audio Visual)-crew helped with equipment for classrooms and performed many helpful tasks. They also gave drymounting, laminating, taping, and thermofax services.

There were nearly one thousand teachers at Roosevelt during the teachers' in-service day February 21, and the AV crew supplied equipment and assistance for the speakers. Ms. Lorraine Hutson was the supervisor for this group of students.

Stage Crew, under the direction of Mr. Art Holcomb, was primarily responsible for construction of sets for the school plays. The group also worked with lighting arrangements for the plays and for assemblies.

Sound Crew, supervised by Mr. Dennis Johnson, handled the sound systems for the Sharks Pageant, "West Side Story," Senior Frolics, the Afro Club show, all athletic events in the gym, and all assemblies in the auditorium. The group was on a field trip when yearbook pictures were taken. Members included Mike Sheets, Mike Hess, Rick Hermann, Bill Carr, and Greg Baker.

Fund-raising projects for DECA

The DECA program at Roosevelt, instructed by Mr. Ron Outcelt, is a part of the state and national Distributive Education Clubs of America. The main purpose of the club, according to Mr. Outcelt, is to "help build leaders in marketing and distribution." This program involves cooperation between the school and the business where the student works in his or her job half the school day. Students earn school credit for their work.

The Roosevelt chapter of the Distributive Education Clubs of America has had numerous fund-raising projects. It sold candy and held bake sales. Selling carnations for Valentines Day also proved to be a profitable venture. Projects such as these were needed for national dues, competition at area, state, and national contests, and the annual employer-employee banquet.

The student officers for the 1978 DECA program were Kim Kirkle, president; Becky Pope, vice-president; Julie Bierman, secretary; and Jeff Beckley, treasurer.

Harris to state OEA contest

Office Education (OE) is a program specializing in the use of various skills with office equipment, and literally putting this knowledge to work at surrounding Des Moines businesses. Junior and senior students involved in OE attend school part of the day, and receive school credit for their jobs.

Office Education activities this year included service projects, selling popcorn for the annual employer-employee banquet held in December, and other social activities.

Senior Laurie Harris competed in the state Office Education Association shorthand contest and Stenography II, and took third place. She also received Honorable Mention for proofreading and spelling.

First semester OE officers were Julianne Calland, president; Linda Faurote, vice-president; Carlotta Hayes, secretary; Louise Skinner, treasurer; and Sue Duncan and Monica McCracken, historians. New officers for second semester were Gloria Parsons, president; Laurie Harris, vice-president; and Melanie Ayers, treasurer. Hayes, Duncan, and McCracken retained their positions. Students give valuable aid to office staff, nurse, librarians

In the office, student workers handled incoming phone calls, tracked down students in classes, ran errands for the administration, and took care of numerous other jobs. "They're great kids—couldn't do without them!" said Ms. Maertz.

The library assistants also provided useful services. David Becker read to a blind student teacher of Ms. Robinson, and Sue Perkins put in hours of time typing cards for the index.

Mandatory immunizations this year caused Ms. Anhorn's office to be swamped with phone calls and record-keeping. Student assistants acted as secretaries for the nurse, thus enabling the task to be completed more smoothly. They also helped with supplies and were taught first aid and minor nursing techniques.

Roosevelt students involved in non-school sponsored activities

Many Roosevelt students were involved in several non-school sponsored activities throughout the year.

Mr. Dick Treman led a group of students on a five-week trip through Europe during the summer of 1977. Approximately 80 students went, most of them from Roosevelt. The group had classes in foreign colleges, and learned about the countries they were in as well as doing plenty of sightseeing. Countries visited were Spain, France, Germany, England, Switzerland, and Holland. The group was accidentally separated at two different New York airports, and countless other adventures followed. A cruise on the Rhine River was a favorite of many.

The 1978 trip, again led by Mr. Treman, was to include Italy, Yugoslavia, France, England, and Switzerland. About the same number were signed up to go.

Junior Achievement, an organization that met weekly to give students around Des Moines insight into how a business runs, started up in October and ended with a banquet May 2.

Sophomore Keith Littleton won the Salesman of the Year Contest, and senior Stacy Peterson won Treasurer of the Year. Peterson also was awarded with a $500 scholarship. Senior Jennifer Vickery was runner-up for President of the Year and a finalist for Outstanding Young Businesswoman. She received a $500 scholarship as well.

Senior Sue Perkins was runner-up for Vice-President of Sales, and she received a $250 scholarship. Senior Terry Wells was a finalist for Vice-President of Sales, and junior Ann Boyt was a finalist for Secretary of the Year.

The Holiday Dance has been a tradition at Roosevelt since 1956, when the school discontinued a senior prom for January graduates. It has been sponsored by senior girls who each contribute about $25, but this year the boys helped out as well. Invitations were distributed to all students in homeroom.

This year's dance was held in the Grand Ballroom of the Hotel Fort Des Moines, from 8:30 to midnight December 21. The theme was "The Grandest of Them All," and "Night Flight," a seven-piece band with brass, played a wide range of music for dancing.

Seniors Barb Betts and Nancy Ponzetti co-chaired the dance committee. Senior Lynn Ward designed the invitation. Seniors Diane Norris, Betsey Teigland, Rita McBride, and Lori Kelderman also were active in preparing the dance.

Ski Club, under the supervision of Mr. Pat Puetz, made its annual weekend trek to Colorado in February. About 70 students traveled by bus to ski the slopes in Steamboat Springs.

"Beach Bash" Breakfast for seniors

The seniors began their final preparations for graduation, and celebrated the end of examinations, with the senior breakfast. Sleepy-heads who had found it practically impossible to get to an eight o'clock class on time were up before seven for juice, sausage, and coffee cake in the cafeteria. In addition, they were treated to home grown entertainment which was as original and spontaneous as it was fascinating.

After breakfast the class got down to the more serious business of line of march practice. Under the cheerful guidance of sponsor Mrs. Betty Hyde they mastered the intricacies of marching in, sitting in the right seat, crossing the stage without tripping, and on which side to wear the tassel. Before the morning was over they were as well prepared as the school could make them for the big day.

The breakfast was planned by committee members chaired by Cory Michel and Lori Shimp. Heading the Line of March committee were Virginia Putnam and Debbie Myers

"Country Western" Frolics a hit

Senior Frolics, the on-and-off variety show that gives the class a chance to show off its talents, was held as a morning assembly May 9. Underclass, faculty, and guests listened attentively and laughed as they enjoyed one of the slickest shows to hit the Roosevelt stage in years.

Diane Norris and Chris Porter satirized the popular "Donny and Marie Osmond" duo as hosts of the show, carrying the "Country Western" theme throughout the production. Music ranged from Lori Lehman's smooth "I Honestly Love You" to Mark Teterud's rock "Knights on Broadway" with electric guitar. "Mr. Bill" and "Men" were among the funniest comedy routines. There were about a dozen different acts, and the show concluded with all the performers on stage singing "Happy Trails to You."

Parent-Faculty Club honors 89 seniors at banquet

The first round of honors for seniors came May 4, when the Parent-Faculty Club entertained 89 members of the class at a banquet in the cafeteria. Proud parents and faculty members gathered to watch as outstanding students were called to the front for their certificates. Leadership, achievement, and service to the school of all kinds were recognized.

Receiving awards were Carolyn Adrianse, LaVeta Anderson, Dee Ann Arthurs, Bradford Barrett, David Becker, Barbara Betts, Benjamin Biber, William Blakely, and Cathy Boresi.

Also honored were Gregory Chia, Heather Cofer, David Copley, Julie

Dickinson, Heidi Fatland, Karen Gangeness, Tami Gray, Scott Green, Laura Greffinius, Robert Harris, Greg Harscher, William Hayes, Jeff Hoffman, Ann Hornaday, Garner Houston, Gaylord Houston, Pat Humphries, and Hilary Hutchison.

Ted Johnson, Debra Jones, Jon Jones, Lori Kelderman, Kim Kirkle, Twyla Lee, Beth Levitt, Ann Love, Rita McBride, Suzanne McDaniel, Barbara McKenzie, Sandra MacNeal, Katherine MacKinnon, Marcia Martens, Lori Meek, Corrine Michel, Jane Miller, Kurt Miller, Barbara Minkler, Michael Mintzer, Julie Mitchell, Karen Mitchell, Tom Monachino, and Scott Murphy were recipients as well.

In addition, Kim Neal, Brian Near, Sharon Nussbaum, Brad Olson, Gloria Parsons, Mark Perkins, Linda Perry, Chris Porter, Elyse Rabinowitz, Mark Radosevich, Rose Mary Randolph, Laura Reese, Maura Robinson, Julie Sandler, Desda Saunders, Tom Schulz, Mike Sheets, Gail Smith, Mike Soener, Burns Stanfield, Tom Stearley, Chris Strub, Peggy Sullivan, and Scott Sutherland received awards.

Betsy Teigland, Mark Teterud, Lori Utterback, Kay VanHorn, Kevin Veenstra, Sue VerSteeg, Jennifer Vickery, Lynn Ward, David Watson, O. Clark West, Mark Williams, Jim Windsor, Nicole Zenian, and Sue Zuckert completed the group.

Unique reception Senior Board plans for class night year's activities

Exams were over May 18, and that evening the school honored academic achievement —those seniors who had excelled in the classroom—at Class Night. Winners of the Superintendent's Awards in the various subject matter areas went to the stage to receive their certificates and medals. The upper five and upper fifteen per cent received their gold and silver cords to wear at graduation. Dozens of college scholarships were awarded.

High points of the evening were standing ovations given to Burns Stanfield, as valedictorian of the class, and to Karen Mitchell, winner of the Cress O. Hoyt award for outstanding service to the school.

With the official proceedings over, chairperson Sue Zuckert invited everyone to the cafeteria, and, in a new adventure for Roosevelt, the fun began. The jazz band played, refreshments were available at a gaily decorated stand, and seniors, parents, and faculty unwound from the serious business of the night.

There was unanimous agreement: it was a great night.

One of the first events for seniors was the election of officers to represent the class and plan activities. Candidates were narrowed down from dozens to just five. Elected were Jennifer Vickery, president; Barb Betts, vice-president; Lori Meek, secretary; and Ann Hornaday and Julie Dickinson, treasurers.

A new type of fund-raiser was successful. It was the "Senior Bizarre," a sale of miscellaneous items contributed by students, faculty, parents, and friends. Both the Senior Mixer and Senior Frolics were well-received. Under capable leadership of committee chairpersons, the hectic month of May moved along fairly smoothly. The Class of '78 was a "rowdy" bunch, and a formal punch-and-cake reception didn't seem appropriate. The Senior Board broke with tradition, and served popcorn and ice cream bars in the brightly-decorated cafeteria. The jazz band played a lively selection of tunes, and everyone had the opportunity to dance as well. The board may have established a new tradition.

The senior officers and committee chairpersons worked with Ms. Betty Hyde, Vice-Principal and Senior Advisor, to make the '77-'78 school year meaningful and memorable to all involved.

Both students and faculty enjoy the Class Night reception, as senior Brad Carpenter whirls Ms. Egli around the dance floor.

Balloons and boogie at "Breezin'" Senior Prom

"Breezin'" was the theme of the 1978 Senior Prom, held May 13 at Drake's Olmstead Center from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. Many of the girls wore pastel-colored dresses, and Olmstead was a myriad of color for the dance. Blue, green, and yellow balloons decorated the area along with plants, trellises, and clouds to provide the light, airy look of a garden in springtime.

"Source," a jazz-rock band from Iowa City, provided the music for the dance. A photographer from John Roberts Studio was on hand to take pictures of couples for $5.

Frisbies given as souvenirs were a big hit, and they could be seen sailing through the air everywhere as the dance let out. About 180 couples attended, and the Senior Board considered the dance a success.

It was 8 p.m. Wednesday, May 24, 1978. Noted attorney David Belin gave sage advice, Dr. Donald Wetter presented the class, and school board member Nolden Gentry gave out diplomas. The real action, however, was behind the scenes, as 378 seniors, minus a few in absentias, faced up to the reality that they really were at a crossroads in their lives.

With shouts of joy that echoed in the cavern of the Auditorium basement, and a few tears as well, they shucked off cap and gown. Goodbyes were said to teachers and friends, many of whom they would never see again, and the senior class of 1978 turned its back on Roosevelt and its face toward new, adult adventures.

School was out!

Riders have 3-5 season; tie for 3rd place in Metro

The Roughrider varsity football team, lead by senior co-captains Greg Chia, Brian Near, Brad Olson, and Garner Houston, ended their season with a 3-5 record. This tied them for third place in the Metro Conference with Lincoln and North.

Despite the losing record, the Riders had many outstanding players. Junior Kevin Wilson rushed for 783 yards and was high scorer with 42 points. Senior Brian Near was leader with 105 tackles, an average of 13.1 per game. Other valuable tacklers were seniors Brad Olson, Greg Chia, and George Price.

This year's team was one of the smallest squads Coach Don Prior had worked with for the past 21 years, but the group worked well together, and many Riders received honors. Brian Near was awarded "most valuable player," and he was given the Wiedemeyer Award, which goes to lineman of the year. Senior Jay Windsor received the Schropp Award for being the best scholar of the team.

Although the Riders fought hard throughout the year, they lost many games with very close scores as time ran out. The season opener was against Newton. Ranked seventh in the state, Newton outweighed the Riders with a defeat of 13-0.

The first Metro game against rival Tech ended with a 9-6 victory for Roosevelt. Quarterback Jed Duncan fired a three-yard scoring pass to Garner Houston. Later senior Matt Marquis tackled Tech's quarterback for a safety.

Roosevelt's Homecoming was ruined by rain and a loss to the East Scarlet with a score of 14-12. The Riders led at the end of the first half 6-0, and the second half was played the next day when the weather had cleared. The score was tied, but Roosevelt had fumbling problems. Kevin Wilson scored with 1:43 left, but fell short of the goal line with an extra point that would have tied the game.

Dowling overpowered the Roughriders 24-6. Duncan suffered four interceptions and hit only one out of seventeen attempts before guiding Roosevelt to its only touchdown late in the game.

With 40 seconds left in the Valley game, Duncan scored from the one yard line. Then the Riders tried for a two-point conversion that would have meant Rider victory, but failed. At half time the Tigers led 21-0, but the Riders tightened their defense to allow Valley only 11 plays in the second half. The final score was a heart-breaking 21-20 defeat.

Roosevelt scored an overtime victory over Lincoln, 12-6. The score was tied in the fourth quarter by a 64-yard touchdown romp from Kevin Wilson.

A 31-0 shutout over Hoover also helped brighten Rider spirits. The Huskies failed to move anywhere, while Roosevelt's defense allowed only 14 yards in the second half.

The final game of the season was a close defeat for the fighting Roughriders. North claimed victory, 13-12.

Freshman football team takes Metro title

Sophs have 1-6 record;
tough season for team

The Roosevelt Freshman football team has had very little recognition in the past, but this year Coach Brian Larson felt they needed to be credited for their 6-1 winning season. With only one loss, to East, their Metro record placed them first. They had an overall record of 7-1. Coach Larson commented, "The team was a hard-working group with a good offense and also a very good defense. Everybody contributed, with no one individual leading. I was pleased with the team effort."

The sophomore team had a tough season and finished with a 1-6 record.

Varsity volleyball has 3-8 season; 8-3 for JV team

The new Roosevelt varsity volleyball team finished its first season with a 3-8 record. The junior varsity finished with an 8-3 record.

This is the first year Roosevelt has included volleyball in its lineup of school sports. The squads consisted of mostly seniors and sophomores, with a few juniors. It is anticipated that they will become stronger, with good potential for the next two years at least.

It was hard for some team members to break their bad habits acquired from playing recreational volleyball. They found themselves having to work at a higher level of skill for power volleyball, as well as learning how to use strategy effectively.

Ms. Ann Miller was the varsity team's coach, and Ms. Caroline Egli coached the junior varsity squad.

Boys cross country has rough season

The Rider boys cross country team faced a tough season this fall. The team was small in number, but the boys were physically fit and each member tried to improve his own personal times throughout the season.

While they won only one dual meet, all members of the team ran well and improved their time. Juniors Steve Berry, Bob Myers, and Sam Sparks led the rest of the Riders to the finish line.

The triangular meet with North and Hoover was the first and only meet the Riders won. Roosevelt runners came in with Sparks as leader in fifth place, Myers in tenth, and Berry in thirteenth. The other Roosevelt runners placed in the teens and twenties to put Roosevelt ahead of North, although still behind Hoover.

In the Metro Conference, the team placed seventh out of eight places with a score of 203. Myers, Berry, and Sparks were again Roosevelt's top runners.

None of the boys qualified for the state meet.

Perry, Goodrich lead girl harriers in winning season

The varsity Rider girls cross country team had a winning season this fall. In Metro running the team placed second, with senior Linda Perry finishing second and junior Darla Goodrich fourth. In the state meet at Eagle Grove, Perry placed eighth out of 161 girls. She was also the first Metro runner to cross the finish line. Goodrich placed fifty-seventh. Roosevelt was seventh in the district meet at Indianola, with Perry in second place and Goodrich in eighth.

In other meets the girls combined efforts to keep the team ahead. Usually the lead runners were Perry and Goodrich, with the others fairly close behind.

THE ROOSEVELT ROUGHRIDER boys varsity basketball team had an exciting season, finishing as the Class 3-A division state champions.

The boys showed much hard work and team togetherness as they ended their season with a Metro record of 13-5, which placed them second in the conference.

In Districts, the Riders defeated Lincoln, Indianola, and Ankeny. Ankeny had downed the Riders earlier in the season, but in the District game the boys combined their talents in third and fourth period action to emerge victorious, 78-73. This led them into the State Tournament.

Overshadowed at first by rival Hoover, the Metro champion with a 21-0 record, Roosevelt went on to surprise everyone, including itself. Hoover was defeated in the semi-final round.

The cagers rallied their way into the semi-final round with a 53-45 decision over Davenport West. Despite a ten-point deficit in the third period, the Riders, paced by the consistency of senior guard Dennis Oakley, fought back for the win. Roosevelt's first lead of the game came in the fourth period, with senior guard Mark Radosevich shooting from the field and Oakley contributing free throws.

The Riders advanced to the final round by defeating Carroll Kuemper, 57-55. Kuemper had beaten Roosevelt earlier in the season, but the Riders led throughout the tournament game, falling behind only once.

Dubuque Wahlert was Roosevelt's opponent in the battle for the state crown, but proved to be no match for the Riders. Roosevelt won, 82-72, for its third state title and first state championship since 1965. When he saw the Rider victory, Head Coach Ron Adcock commented that it was the happiest day of his coaching career.

Oakley's performance in the final game spoke highly of the team. He went into the tournament with an 8.9 scoring average, and ended by blitzing Wahlert's defense. Oakley hit 15 out of 18, with a perfect six-for-six free throws during the last half, winding up with a career high of 30 points. Radosevich went in with an average of 14, hit eight-for-eight, and shot 22. Junior forward Kevin Wilson shot 13 for the Riders. The team shot 52 per cent and closed its season with a 19-5 record.

Coach Adcock was assisted by Mr. Tom Long, Mr. Lon Larson, Mr. Dennis Johnson, and Mr. Jerry Palermo. Jon Hay and Chris Wolf were the team managers.

Senior forward Gaylord Houston and Radosevich were chosen for the All-Metro first and second teams, respectively. Honorable Mention went to Oakley, Wilson, and senior forward Garner Houston. Gaylord Houston was also chosen for the State's third team, and Radosevich was named to the fifth. Extra-Special Mention went to Oakley.

A special awards ceremony was held the day after the tournament, and Monday was a day of celebration at school.

Girls basketball team combines talents; 10-9 season

Laura Leonard outstanding, second in Metro scoring

The Roosevelt girls varsity basketball team finished 8-6 in the Metro conference and had an overall winning season of 10-9. The team was led by senior forwards Marcia Martens and Candy McClaran and junior Laura Leonard.

The girls started a slow season with three losses, two of which were fought out to the last seconds. The first win of the season was against Saydel.

Another win and a highlight of the season was the Lincoln game. Leonard made 20 of 26 field attempts and 18 of 23 free throws to finish the game with an all-career high of 58 points. Gladson and Martens added 16 apiece.

Other Rider victories included Woodward Granger, Hoover, and North. Leonard continued to be the lead scorer, with Martens following next.

In an exciting non-conference game against Newton, Gladson made a shot to tie the score at 54-54 with just two seconds left. The game went into overtime, but Newton eventually won.

At Dowling, Leonard sunk a shot with 0:28 seconds remaining in overtime to pull out a close victory of 65-62.

Although they were defeated in the tournament, the Riders went in with a good record. Leonard led with a 79% point average, followed by Martens with 69%.

Leonard took second place in conference scoring, with an average of 42 points per game. She was also the sole forward voted to the All-Metro team. Seniors Andrea Miller and Linda Perry and junior Carol Hill were chosen from the guard court.

Sophomore, JV teams gain experience for varsity

THE ROOSEVELT GIRLS JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL TEAM was comprised of those Varsity team players who hadn't seen appreciable action in the preceding week's varsity contests. Several sophomore girls were brought up to JV for experience. The performance levels, and thus the scores, varied due to constant changing of personnel.

The most significant victory was a rally in the second half of the first JV game of the season. Dowling led the Riders 37-17 at half time. In the second half, junior guards Carol Hill, Diane Deskin, Linda Bastian, and Mary Radosevich held the Maroons to 15 points while senior forward Judy James and sophomores Debbie James and Rhonda Hoffman scored 32 points to claim victory, 49-47.

Later games were as follows: TRHS 40—Lincoln 53; TRHS 37—East 60; TRHS 48—Dowling 56; TRHS 67—Valley 74.

Deskin, Bastian, and junior Sara Cole were the mainstay guards. Debbie James, senior Cathie Gladson, and junior Finessa Billingsley were the primary forwards. The team was coached by Mr. Orv Siers.

THE BOYS JV TEAM played twelve games, and finished with a 4-5 Metro record. High scorers on the team were juniors Brian Billingsley, Tom Wilson, and Greg Price. Mr. Tom Long and student coach Jerry Palermo coached the team.

THE BOYS SOPHOMORE TEAM had a winning season. They finished with an 8-6 Metro record, and an overall standing of 9-9.

Ricky DeCarlo led the team in scoring, and shot 52.8 per cent. His season high came in the second Valley game when he scored 48 points. He ended the season with a total of 558 points. Behind him were John Ruble and Lewis Grady, who each shot 47.3 per cent. DeCarlo also led in free throw attempts. His average was 81.8 per cent, followed by Ruble and Brian Bell with 66.6 per cent apiece. Mr. Lon Larson coached the team.

THE GIRLS SOPHOMORE TEAM was coached by Mr. Gary Miller. The team got off to a slow start, but learned quickly and finished with a 10-8 overall record.

Forwards Debbie James and DeeAnne Davis and guard Shelley Rollison played well, as did Sue Worley, who alternated between forward and guard positions.

Many of the girls decided to continue working over the summer to prepare for varsity action. Some planned to enroll in a physical fitness course taught in summer school; others planned to participate in summer sports.

The Roosevelt girls swim team completed their season with a 4-2 dual meet record and one tie. In the state meet they received seventh place.

In their last dual meet, against Dowling, the Riders had a big day. They ended up with two triple winners, a double winner, and a new school record.

Co-captains Barb Minkler, a senior, and Juli May, a junior, won three events each. Minkler won the 200-yard individual medley and the 100-yard backstroke, then teamed up with May, senior Stacy Hull, and junior Teresa La Mair to win the 400-yard freestyle relay. May also won the 100-yard freestyle and set a school record in the 50-yard freestyle with a time of 25.3 seconds.

Hull was the double winner as she combined with senior Rita McBride and sophomores Christie Whitmore and Lori Pomerantz to win the 200-yard medley relay.

At State, freshman Michal Long finished second in diving, losing to a Cedar Rapids girl by less than one point. Minkler finished eighth in the 100-yard backstroke and combined with May, Hull, and La Mair to finish eighth in the 400-yard freestyle relay. May finished ninth in the 50- and 100-yard freestyle. Whitmore had a tenth place finish in the 100-yard backstroke.

Tankers 10th in State; Second place in Metro

The boys varsity swim team finished tenth in the State meet, after a third place finish in Districts and the second place title in Metro.

Junior Dan Bartlett was the Rider's highest finisher at State. He took fourth place in the 50-yard freestyle, with a time of 0:22.2, and finished fifth in the 100-yard freestyle. Bartlett also broke three of Roosevelt's records, bettering the times in the 50- and 100-yard freestyle, and helping to improve the medley relay time by one one-hundredth of a second.

Senior Jeff Hoffman captured first place in the consolation round, which put him at seventh in the state. Hoffman placed twelfth in the individual medley. The Riders 200-yard medley relay team, consisting of Bartlett, Hoffman, senior Dave Watson, and junior Jim Burns, had a seventh place finish.

At Districts, Hoffman set a new District record of 0:54.77 in the 100-yard butterfly. Bartlett placed second in the 100-yard freestyle, and sophomore Phil Templeton placed third. Templeton also finished second in the 200-yard freestyle.

Roosevelt's top diver, junior Kent

Puckett, finished seventh at the district meet. Sophomore Matt Norris finished thirteenth.

The Riders captured five first place spots in the Metro Conference meet. Hoffman again broke his own Metro record by improving his previous time of 0:56.20 to 0:55.87 in the 100-yard butterfly. In dual meets the Riders had a record of 6-4 with one tied score.

JV swimmers prepare for varsity

The boys Junior Varsity swimmers broke even in a four-meet schedule, in addition to developing material for next year's team. The victories were a close one over hot rival Valley, and a runaway against the Ames JV. One loss was at the hands of powerhouse Cedar Rapids Washington. The other was against city competitor Hoover, which might forecast trouble for the 1978-79 varsity in Metro competition.

Letter winners were senior Scott Eggleston, junior Tim Steiner, and freshman diver Matt Norris. Showing potential for next year's varsity were Doug Heemstra, freestyle; Nathan Stout, back stroke; and Steve Canine, breast stroke.

The girls had one of the biggest JV teams for several years. Letter winners were senior Lisa Schaefer and juniors Laurie Hornberger and Linda Bastian. Both JV teams were coached by Mr. Dan Paulson.

Team finishes fourth in state, second in Metro

The Roosevelt girls synchronized swimming team finished fourth in the state meet, and second in Metro. The duet performance of junior Leslie Dishman and her sophomore sister Lisa was named the best in the state. This makes two years in a row that the duo has captured the title.

Co-Captained by seniors Deda Saunders and Lori Shimp, the group of ten members took sixth place.

The synchronized season consisted of one stunt meet, a Metro meet, and the state competition.

"The dual number should remain state champions again next year," commented Coach Ann Miller, "because both Dishmans will be back."

Harvey Davis makes it to state meet, Mike Scott places fourth at Districts

One Rider grappler made it to the state wrestling meet this season. Senior Harvey Davis began by beating an East opponent, 4-2, in the semifinal round. In the district championship final, he was defeated, 12-2. However, Davis still qualified for State in the 119-pound class. Junior Mike Scott (105-lb.) placed fourth at Districts after he was defeated in the semifinal round. At State, Davis was eliminated in the first round, losing to a wrestler from Harlan.

Returning to the Roughrider team were 10 lettermen, led by senior captain Bob Harris. At the beginning of the season, Coach John Shaffer was optimistic about Roosevelt's team. Although this year's team was less experienced than in past years, Coach Shaffer stated that they had "many good individuals" and potential for a winning season.

Tech was the first team the Riders faced. The score was tied, 27-27, but Roosevelt had to forfeit in the heavyweight class. This gave Tech a 33-27 victory. Despite their rough start, the Riders were successful in following meets. At North, they won 5 out of 9 matches, and added points with 4 forfeits to win, 46-12.

At the Carlisle Invitational, Roosevelt placed sixth. They placed second a week later in the West Marshall Invitational.

The Riders pulled off a victory against Hoover, 36-26. Winning wrestlers for Roosevelt were seniors Tom Schulz (112), Bob Harris (126), and Matt Marquis (167), and juniors Jay Thompson (182) and Mike Scott (105).

In a non-Metro dual meet, the boys beat Indianola, with Marquis, Scott, and junior Brandon Bennett (185) pinning their opponents. Other Rider winners were Thompson, Bob Harris, and juniors Jamie Harris (155) and Tony Bates (138).

At Valley, Bob Harris and Scott led with 7-3 and 13-2 wins, but the Riders were defeated, 48-9. Lincoln squeezed by Roosevelt, 28-25. Thompson and Scott each pinned his opponent, the latter doing so in just 44 seconds. Other Rider victories were grabbed by Schulz, Davis, Bob Harris, and Jamie Harris. Roosevelt triumphed over Carroll Kuemper, 31-24, winning over them for the first time in four years.

The Riders were victorious, 30-28, in a meet against Perry. Scott started off with a 56-second pin. Next Davis pulled his opponent to the mat with a 14-8 win. Bob Harris slowed the action, using quick, well-planned moves to beat a slightly bigger opponent, 6-0. Then Marquis, Thompson, and Bennett all scored with pins.

Ending the season, the Riders finished in second place at the Lincoln Tournament, with a score of 156½. In Metro dual meets, the boys came up with a record of 4-4. Their overall mark was 6-4, which pleased Coach Shaffer because he felt the team performed well throughout the season. The team will lose 4 lettermen by graduation and have 12 returning next season.

Gymnasts fifth in State; Jody Keck ends career

The Roosevelt gymnastic team took first place in Districts, and went on to capture third place in the regional meet and fifth in State.

Junior Jody Keck, one of Roosevelt's top gymnasts, suffered severe back pains and was forced to end her career. She had been following the pattern of her two older sisters, both Roosevelt graduates, and she finished fourth in all-around competition at State last year.

Coach Debbie Thyberg commented that although they regretted the loss of Keck, the team did well. They were only four tenths of a point behind Dowling in the Metro conference meet. They entered Districts with only one dual meet loss to Ames.

Keck competed in the district meet and took first place all-around. She placed fourth on bars, third on the beam, and second in floor exercise. Sophomore Patty Sargent finished fifth in all-around, and sophomore Cheryl Johnson came in eighth.

At the regional meet, Keck was unable to compete, and the team wasn't expected to qualify for State. However, Sargent and Johnson led the team into third place. In the state meet Sargent tied for the sixth place spot in tumbling. Her performance brought her a score of 8.20 of 10 possible. Sargent was Roosevelt's only qualifier for individual competition.

Williams sets high jump record for boys track

Some outstanding performers gave luster to what otherwise would have been only a fair track season for Roosevelt. Senior high jumper Mark Williams set new records and was one of the best in the state. Senior Chris Strub was outstanding in the middle distances until injured, and junior Kevin Rife won points in the sprints.

Williams placed second in the Drake Relays with a 6 foot-6 inch leap, was first in the Metro meet, also at 6 feet-6 inches, and also won the Valley Relays title and the Drake indoor.

Strub was off to a great start, with a third in the Federation half-mile, first in the Drake indoor, and an 800-meter winner at the Bobcat Relays, but was hobbled by an injury the rest of the season.

Rife came on strong, with a third in the District meet which qualified him for the state finals. However, both Rife and Williams failed to place in the state meet.

High points of the season for the team were a second place in a triangular, behind Lincoln but ahead of Hoover, and a fourth place in the Ames Invitational.

Coach Dick Hewins was pleased with the improvement of the younger men on the squad, and was hopeful for next season's chances.

Perry stars in winning track season

Combining the efforts of several star performers with good team strength, the girls track team had a season marked with success.

Senior Linda Perry established herself early as one of the best runners in the state, with a first in the state indoor at 300 yards. She finished the season with a 400-meter first in the state outdoor, and in between took a surprising first at 100 meters at the Drake Relays.

The team's fifth place finish in the state meet was achieved by adding a second in the spring medley relay, run by Perry, senior Marcia Martens, and juniors Linda Bastian and Carole Whitmore. Perry also took a second place in the 200-meter dash.

Junior Darla Goodrich performed well at the longer distances, taking a third at 1,500 meters in the district meet, and scoring well in other meets.

In the field events, outstanding performers were Martens in the long jump, and senior Candy McLaren, who for a time had the state's best mark in the softball throw. Bastian and sophomore Dee Anne Davis were consistent winners in the high jump.

Seven sophomores and six juniors lettered, giving promise of good things to come. The team was coached by Mr. Gary Miller and Mr. Orville Siers.

Girls golf has stormy season, 5-2 Metro record

The girls golf team had a 5-2 record in Metro competition, and placed fourth at the Valley classic.

The squad began its season by blitzing East by a 54-stroke margin. Junior Juli May was medalist with a score of 30 for six holes, followed by sophomore Sue Worley with 34, senior Mary Ann Dorweiler with 35, and sophomore Diana Dickinson with 39.

At the Hoover meet, the girls won by eight strokes. May was again medalist, with a score of 31, in third place was Dorweiler with 34, and behind her were Worley with 38 and Dickinson with 40.

Tech was swamped, 128-187; North was defeated 197-248; and the girls took Lincoln, 140-150.

Only losses in the conference were a narrow 138-133 match with Dowling, and a 218-176 defeat by the Valley girls who were destined to be the state high school champions. The team did not qualify at the sectional tournament.

Members of the team included senior Mary Ann Dorweiler; juniors Ann Whitfield, Juli May, and Teresa LaMair; and sophomores Sue Worley, Diana Dickinson, Carol Hopson, Rhonda Hoffman, and Chelon Long.

Juli May was captain, and the team was coached by Mr. Don Prior.

Golfers 7-1 in Metro; Pidgeon best in city

The word "birdie" means success to all golfers, but at Roosevelt this year "Pidgeon" was a word even more popular. There were four Pidgeons on the boys squad, Brian, Larry, Mike, and David, and all all played well.

The team had a 7-1 Metro record, losing only to East by a slim four-stroke margin. In invitational meets they were tenth at Ottumwa and fourth in the Valley Classic, and came on for a first at the Urbandale tournament.

Entering state competition, the Riders were third at the District tournament and second in the Sectional. At the latter, Brian Pidgeon was medalist with a 76. A ninth place in the state finals ended the team competition, with Brian Pidgeon placing fifth in individual scoring.

The team opened the season with a victory in a triangular meet over Hoover and Indianola. After the loss to East they knocked off every other team in the Metro. Highlights were a 156-164 win over Dowling, a 164-173 defeat of ever-dangerous Valley, and a 150-151 squeaker against Hoover.

After school was out Brian Pidgeon entered the city men's tournament, and took first place, at 17 being the youngest man to win since 1932. A few days later he followed it up with a victory in the city junior tournament, giving him undisputed claim to Des Moines' golfing honors for the year.

The team was coached by Mr. Tom Long.

Roosevelt's Riders are good sports in all seasons

There is a sport for every season at Roosevelt, and a season for every sport. Autumn ushered in volleyball, cross-country, girls swimming, and of course football.

Winter brought wrestling, boys swimming, gymnastics, and the basketball team that won the state championship. In spring it was track, golf, and tennis, and this was followed by the summer programs of baseball and softball.

In the meantime students organized their own club teams for hockey and soccer. Cheerleaders added their colorful presence to the sports scene throughout the school year.

For the non-competitive students there were more personal sports—locker stuffing, lap sitting, and girl watching, for example. But whatever the season, the Roosevelt Riders were there, having fun doing their thing.

Boys tennis team has 11-1 standing; Olson to State

The 1978 Roosevelt boys tennis team had a good year, with a Metro mark of 6-1. They ended the season with an 11-1 standing.

Senior Brad Olson went to the state competition but was knocked out in the first round. Two doubles teams made it to District but were also downed in the first round. These teams were sophomores Dennis Kelly and Doug Reynolds, and junior Andy Susanin and freshman Kevin Stetson.

At the Bobcat Invitational the Riders took first place, beating teams from Ames, West Waterloo, and Marshalltown. The Susanin-Stetson team and the team of Olson and senior Chris Porter played well.

The tennis squad had several tough meets this season. The Valley meet was undecided until the final doubles match, when Olson and Porter defeated the Tigers with a score of 6-3, 7-6.

Another difficult match was the first dual meet against Ames. The Riders captured victory, 6-3.

Mr. Dick Treman was the team's coach.

Elyse Rabinowitz takes third in State, freshman doubles team places fourth

The girls tennis team had an excellent season, ending with perfect records of 7-0 in Metro and 9-0 all-around. Out of the 81 dual meets they played, only two matches were lost.

In the state meet, senior Elyse Rabinowitz placed third, and the doubles team of freshmen Joannie Heggen and Meg Murphy placed fourth. The Riders beat teams from Hoover, Indianola, and Creston to win Districts. Rabinowitz and Heggen and Murphy beat Hoover contenders to qualify for State.

The Riders were unbeatable at sectionals, defeating teams from Hoover, Lincoln, North, Saydel, and Urbandale.

Throughout the season, the Riders had several outstanding players who played consistently good matches to keep Roosevelt on top. These included juniors Laura Leonard, Gail Golieb, and Marcia Isaacson, sophomores Julie Smith and Charlotte Hemminger, and freshmen Joannie Heggen, Rachel Stauffer, Meg Murphy, and Karen Kelly. Rabinowitz and Stauffer teamed up as a successful doubles pair, winning every match they played.

Co-captains of the team were seniors Rabinowitz, Sue Zuckert, Amy Seaman, and Julie Sandler. The team was coached by Mr. Tom Reed.

Baseball team third in Metro, 16-15 record

Roosevelt's baseball team had an overall record of 16-15 for the summer of 1977. The boys were 7-7 in the Metro conference, good for a third place finish. They also went to the district tournament finals, but were defeated.

The team participated in a pre-season tournament. They placed fourth, after playing three games and defeating two schools. Fans who followed the team all season witnessed some exciting highlights and fine performance. In games against Tech and North, the Riders beat their opponent in five innings, winning with scores of 13-1 and 12-1.

Roosevelt gave Southeast Polk a challenge in a non-conference game. The Rams were ahead, 13-5, in the fifth inning, but the Riders came back with six runs in the sixth and two in the eighth to tie. The game was finished later in the season, and the Rams finally won, 20-14.

The Riders played three games and won two at the Saydel tournament. Later they defeated Ankeny, 8-5, and Hoover, 2-1, in the district tournament.

Junior Mark Radosevich was voted Most Valuable Player by his teammates. He made All-Metro first team as a utility player, alternating between pitching and outfield. Radosevich also made the All-District team and the All-State list.

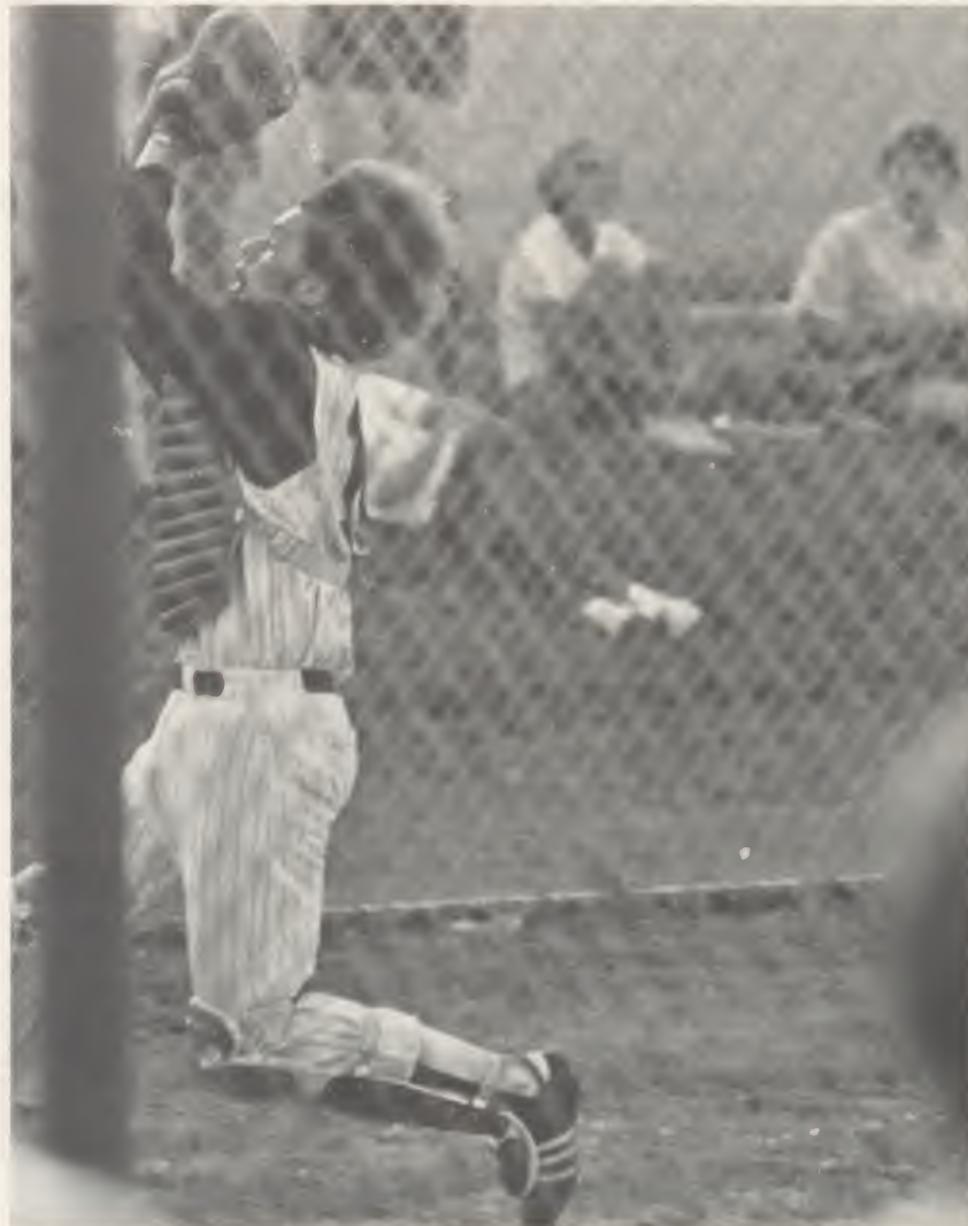

Junior Jeff Bemis made All-Metro first team playing second base. Four players made All-Metro second team: senior Mike Smyth, outfield; junior John Robinson, catcher; junior Bob Johnson, outfield; and junior Brian Near, third base. Honorable Mention was given to seniors Randy Morris and Brad Chiafos and junior Brad Olson.

Johnson led the team with 14 stolen bases and 23 RBI's. He was also the leading hitter, with a .378 batting average. Other outstanding hitters were Bemis, .350; Smith, .347; Radosevich, .345; and Near, .321.

The team was coached by Mr. Ron Adcock, and their manager was Jon Hay.

Sixth place Metro finish for softball team in 1977

Roosevelt's softball team finished the 1977 summer season with a 5-9 Metro Conference record, good for a sixth place finish. The overall varsity record was 7-16; the junior varsity was 5-13.

Led by seven returning letter winners, the girls defeated the ultimate conference champion, East High, early in the season. Other conference wins were over Hoover, Tech, and Valley.

Four awards were given at the end of the year for outstanding performances. The Most Valuable Player, selected by other team members, was Allison Sidmore White. She pitched, played second base, and batted .280. Other award winners were Laura Leonard, best hitter, with a .423 batting average; Marcia Martens, best fielder; and Carrie Runge, most improvement.

The 1977 team accumulated numerous team records, including the most wins (seven) in a season. Sophomore Laura Leonard made first team All-Metro and received Honorable Mention All-State. Second team All-Metro selections included seniors Allison Sidmore White and Nancy Green, and junior Candy McClaran. Junior Marcia Martens received Honorable Mention All-Metro.

Although six players were lost by graduation, Head Coach Dennis Johnson anticipates a good season in 1978. Five starters return next year.

Roosevelt participated in two non-school sponsored sports this year: soccer and hockey.

The soccer team had two seasons, one in the fall and one in the spring. In their fall season, they won the league title and had a perfect 8-0 record. In the spring season their record was 5-3.

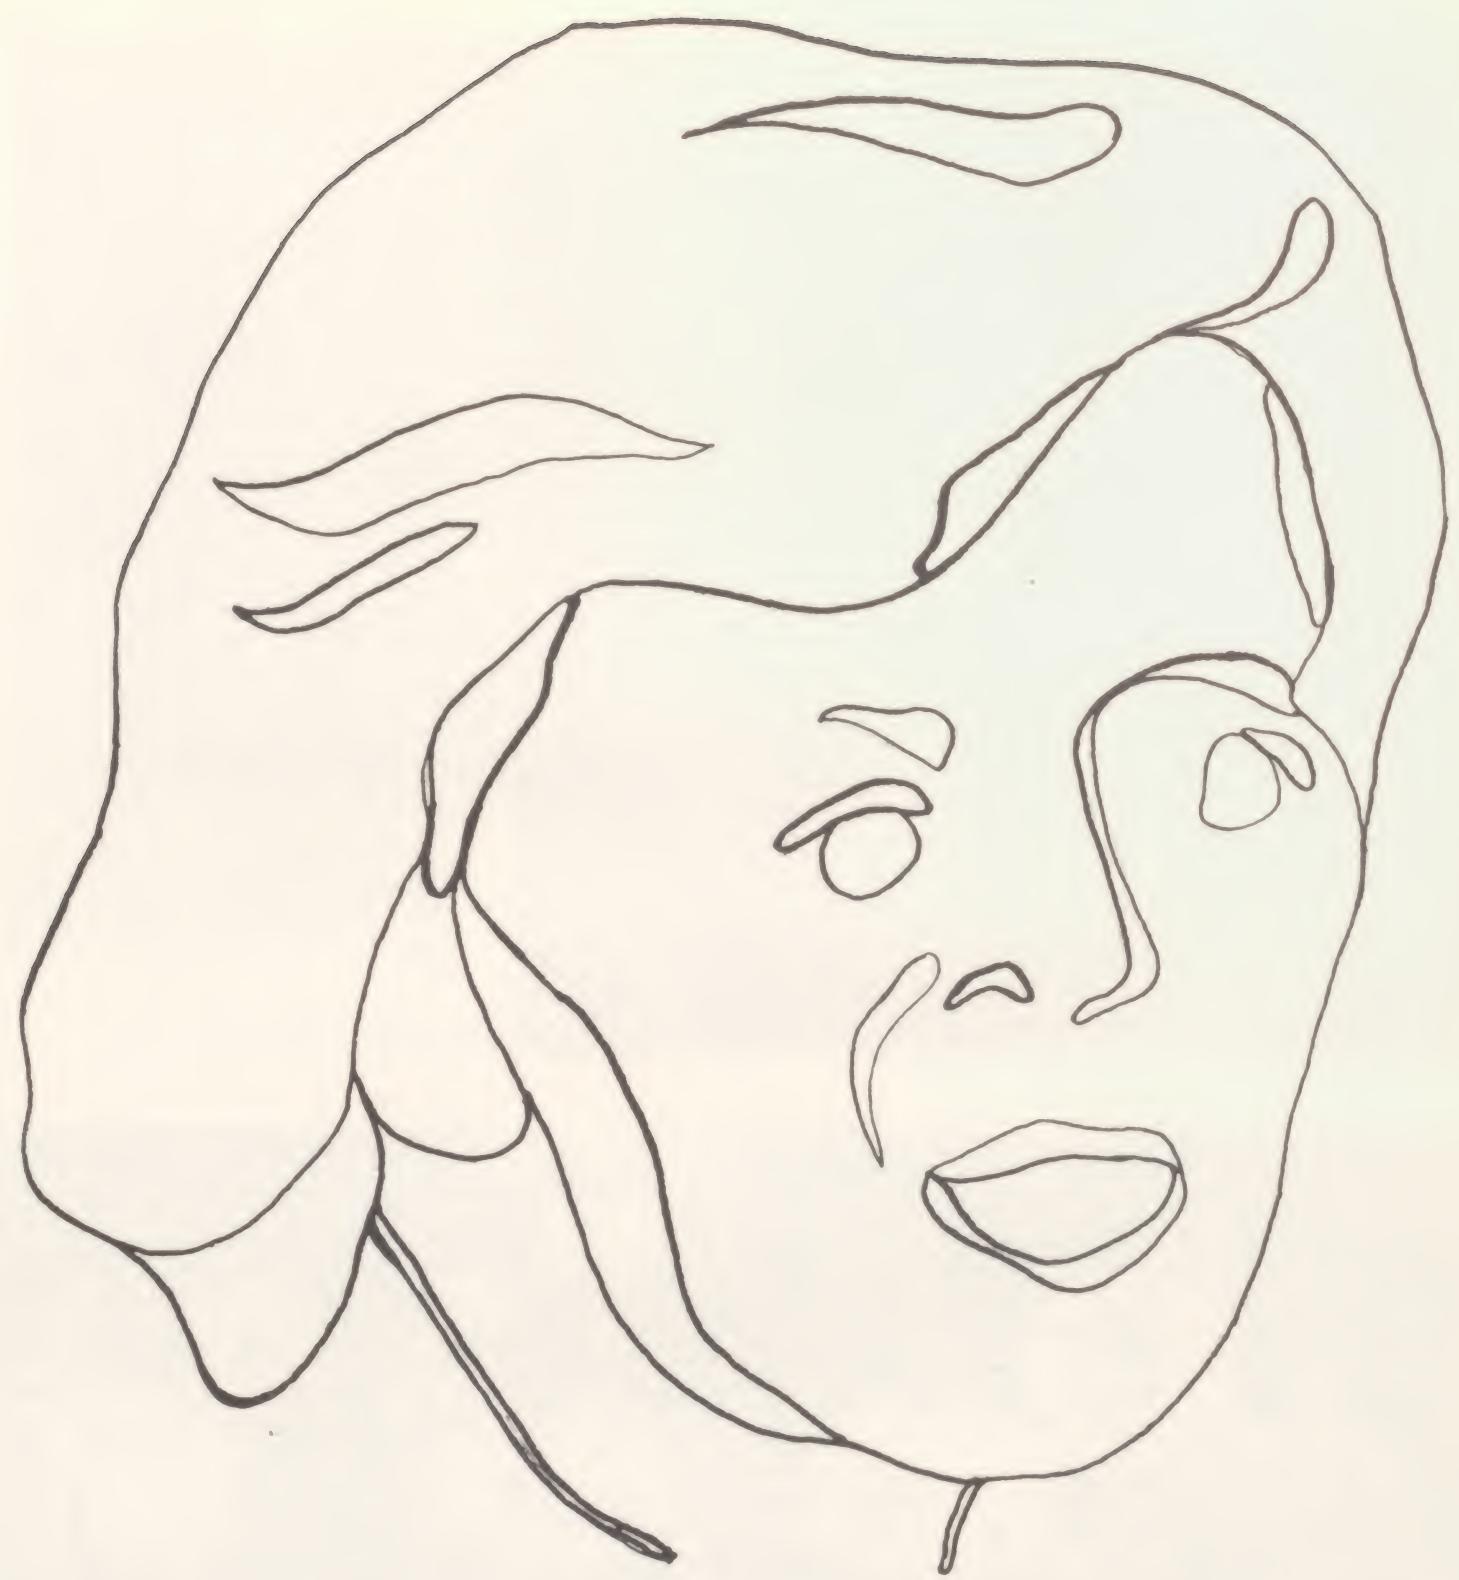

For each soccer game, 15 to 18 players were available. All trained three to five times weekly without an official coach. Senior Marty Hicks served as captain. He hoped that, with the increasing interest Americans are showing for soccer, perhaps it would be school sponsored in the near future.

Roosevelt combined with Hoover to form a hockey team of 21 members. The team compiled a 16-8 Metro record, second place in the Metro standings, and a 10-10-1 state record. Getting a poor start, the team was sparked by freshman goalie Kevin Thompson and all-state linemen senior Scott Sutherland and junior Kurt Paulsen and second team all-state senior Keith McFadyen. Top scorers for the team were Sutherland (66 points), McFadyen (35), and Hoover's John Schmidt (38).

ACADEMICS

Administration initiates programs to improve school; copes with a decreasing budget and lower enrollment

Supervising Roosevelt's active student body and faculty would be a busy job for anyone, but Principal Bruce Gardner seems to handle it with ease.

One of Mr. Gardner's programs to improve the school this year was a drive for better homeroom attendance. He requested that teachers impress the importance of this attendance upon their students since it is the official report that is sent to the office. This record is the one that is sent to prospective colleges and employers.

Due to declining enrollment, Mr. Gardner also had to deal with the decreased school budget. He explained that the budget cuts came in the areas of books, equipment, and other classroom supplies. Mr. Gardner said that he admired the efforts of teachers for conducting classes without all the materials they would like to have had. He also said that the budget pinch did not directly affect the athletic program, but that declining enrollment had taken its toll on activity ticket sales.

Vice-Principal Jerald Curnutt worked as advisor for sophomore boys and juniors. He also supervised athletic events and ticket sales.

Vice-Principal Betty Hyde acted as senior class advisor, helping to set goals and standards for the class as well as helping with their activities. She was also advisor to sophomore girls and seniors.

The Board of Education directed the school district through one of the most trying years of its existence. Declining enrollment and reduced financing forced them to face the painful decision of closing schools. Having weathered the trauma of busing to achieve integration, the board tackled its new problems. Before the summer was over, they had decided to close two junior highs, making the revamping of the high schools to a four-year program by 1979 a definite possibility.

Counselors ready to help

It would be difficult to find a student here who is unfamiliar with the helpful people in the counseling department. There, a student can go to get help with a problem, work out a mixed-up schedule, or look over career materials.

In addition to her duties as pupil services coordinator, Ms. Mary Seaver also acted as the "R" Club sponsor. Mr. Belford Walker served as the employment counselor, helping to find jobs for many students. Ms. Stella Schroeder and Mr. Robert Peterson were always ready to assist students with counseling. This was Mr. Peterson's first year at Roosevelt, and he said "I'm really impressed with how great the kids' maturity, general behavior, and understanding are."

Library gets new equipment, records, magazines

The library purchased a great deal of new equipment this year including a stereo with two sets of earphones, a 10-digit calculator, a regular battery-run calculator, and a microfiche reader.

Ms. Charlene Lakin, librarian, explained that she has subscribed to several new magazines for the coming year, including Car and Driver, Essence, Mother Earth News, and Rolling Stone. She also said that the library will be getting lots of paperback books as well. Ms. Marcelle Kreitinger added that the library has received about 60 records of the 150-record "Anthology of American Music" set.

Immunization a priority for nurse

School Nurse Eva Anhorn explained that immunization was the biggest campaign in her department this year. She was very pleased with the program's success, saying that only 4 per cent of Roosevelt's students failed to have their immunizations completed on time. Ms. Anhorn worked at two immunization clinics during the past year and also phoned parents about conforming with the immunization law.

Ms. Anhorn saw about 55 students a day, with ailments ranging from minor first aid to problems requiring counseling. One of her more recent and unusual services was removing gum from a student's slacks.

English provides traditional and innovative classes

Balancing traditional and contemporary classes, the English department devoted itself to the goals of improving fluency, critical awareness, and skill in reading, composition, and oral communication. Classes such as Composition and American Literature cultivated fundamental reading and writing skills. Contemporary classes like Mass Media and Forensics helped students develop awareness for current interests and problems. Individualized Reading was popular with students who wished to read and discuss on a one-to-one basis. Journalism classes produced the Roundup and ACTION Magazine, and furnished many of the yearbook staff members.

Top: Mr. Silka and Ms. Siers are always looking for contemporary material to use in their English classes. Above: On the lookout for literary classics, Mr. Craft and Mr. Freimuth scour the library shelves. Right: Drama teacher R.C. Anderson checks on some students backstage in the Little Theatre.

Upcoming changes to affect English classes and staff

The English department is currently making some changes, although many of the differences will not be seen until next year.

Mr. Everett Craft will be transferring to Hoover High, where he will have classes similar to those he has taught at Roosevelt. Mr. Wayne Silka will be here for half-days only.

English ASP has been made into an AP/ASP English course with a focus on meeting the requirements of the Advanced Placement English Development Committee. The class will strive to prepare students for college work by stressing both literature and composition. Readings will include everything from traditional and classic works to more modern selections.

The student enrolling in AP/ASP will meet more difficult requirements. Tenth Grade English, Composition, and British Literature are prerequisite courses, and the student must have an English grade average of 1.5. Mr. Herb Hantz will be teaching the class. Ms. Margaret Robinson will have a new course called Advanced Composition.

Language classes are reorganized and oral communication stressed

Above: Mr. Graham teaches students about both the language and culture of Germany. Right: Mr. Thelen enjoys a Spanish poem read by Mr. Pratt. Lower right: Ms. Soria, who will not return to Roosevelt next year, and Ms. Fant.

French songbook revised classes have parties

French V students were given a separate class this year, and Spanish III, IV, and V classes were combined into one course, explained Mr. Gary Thelen, foreign language department head. The French V class, taught by Ms. Simone Soria, was successful, stressing advanced concepts of the language. However, the Spanish classes will not be combined next year.

To increase oral comprehension, all language classes used the language lab. The French songbook was revised to use in developing pronunciation.

Trips and celebrations were also popular with the language classes. Approximately 50 French students and faculty visited St. Ambrose Cathedral in October. The French classes also had a cheese party during French Cheese Week, and celebrated "Poisson d'Avril" (April Fools) in the traditional French way.

Concerts, exhibits for fine arts groups

Variety and novelty marked the activities of both the music and art departments this year.

A trip to New York, Philadelphia, and Washington D.C. highlighted the year for the band and orchestra. The groups raised money in their free time by holding a paper drive and haunted house and by having a 26-hour music marathon. The band also attended contests and presented a spring concert. All instrumental groups were under the direction of Mr. Harold Jansen.

Mr. Delbert Schiebel was the teacher for vocal groups including Concert Chorus, Treble Choir, and The Early Dawn Swing Choir. They performed at places such as Heather Manor, Merle Hay Mall, and the YWCA.

Art students were given an opportunity to display their work at the "Creativity Carnival" Arts Fair held in April. Their projects originated in the art classes of Mr. George Hans, Ms. Susan Lewis, and Ms. Judy Milligan.

Social studies gives students a broad selection of classes

Government and economics pertinent

Flexibility was the philosophy of this year's social studies department. This allowed teachers to offer a wide variety of diverse classes.

A particularly relevant class today, government gave students the chance to study their role in party politics and their responsibility in choosing the nation's leaders. Classes also learned the functions of all levels of government from Mr. Kenneth Kephart and Mr. John Shaffer.

When not pondering over the Aspirin and Hemline theories of the business cycle, economics students learned about the American economy from Mr. Richard Treman and Mr. Keith Carlson. Other important topics covered were the market system and international trade. For those with a deeper interest in economics, Comparative Economics offered the opportunity to analyze current economic problems in depth.

American History, taught by Mr. Tom Long, Mr. Don Prior, Mr. Garland Seibert, and Mr. Darrell Gripenberg, covered American events from colonial times to the present.

Anthropology, Asian studies depict world culture

Not being limited to American culture and history, the social studies department also offered courses focused on the world. Anthropology, taught by Ms. Phyllis Jagiello, gave students a better understanding of man, culture, and environment. Mr. John Shaffer's sociology classes also delved into the workings of social groups. Soviet Union and Asian Studies allowed students to discover new aspects of the world's history, literature, and geography.

For those wanting to learn about their complex minds and personalities, Mr. Carlson offered a Psychology course which used a scientific method of studying human behavior.

Top: Mr. Prior and Mr. Long have a casual style in their American History classes. Left: Mr. Treman doesn't seem to agree with a student's economic theories. Above: Mr. Gripenberg and Mr. Seibert make a good duo in the history department.

David Darling leaves math department

Popular math instructor David Darling resigned at mid-year to take a job with the state, and celebrated his departure by breaking his leg with a fall in the icy parking lot. Ms. Vera Biddle was called back temporarily from retirement to finish the year for him.

Other positions were competently filled by veteran teachers Robert Cummings, Carolyn Egli, Clyde Anderson, and Max Akers. Course offerings included Algebra I and II, Geometry, College Math, and Applied Math. Those with special interests could progress to Calculus and Data Processing.

Biology courses are popular

General Biology was the largest science course in enrollment this year, said Mr. Jack Koch, department head. Mr. Koch also said that Advanced Biology was popular, explaining that there are generally three types of students in the class: those who wish to go into a biology career, those who are considering it, and those who hope to test out of college science.

There will be only one change in the science staff next year. Mr. Pat Puetz will be here for half-days only due to declining enrollment in the physics and physical science classes. All current classes will be offered next year.

Drafting, carpentry offered in shop

Under the capable instruction of Mr. Lawrence Stokka, Mr. LaMoine Parkhurst, Mr. Walter Hayes, and Mr. Dennis Johnson, the Industrial Arts department offered many types of classes. Students were able to work with both hot and cold metal, electronics, or with wood in Carpentry and Cabinet Making. Several drafting courses were also taught.

Above: Mr. Hayes and Mr. Parkhurst. Right: Mr. Stokka helps a student. Below: Mr. Johnson runs a test on some shop department equipment.

Baumgartner retires after 36 years at RHS

Home economics classes were highlighted first semester when students hosted three of Mr. Clyde Anderson's math classes to special Homecoming celebrations. Ms. Doris Davenport, who left after a maternity leave in the fall, was the sponsoring teacher of the parties. Refreshments were planned and prepared by the classes, with an emphasis on nutrition. The room was decorated with blue and white streamers and posters.

Ms. Ruth Baumgartner ended 36 years of home economics teaching here as she retired this year. She came to Roosevelt in 1942 and helped to begin many of the current homemaking courses.

Business skills aid both career and college-bound

Ms. Debbie Ryan was new to the business department this year, teaching Office Education, Typing I, Shorthand, Clerical Practice, and Clerical Typing. This was her first teaching assignment.

Whether planning to go into secretarial work or go to college, typing and shorthand were two valuable and popular courses offered by the business teachers. For those entering the business world, Business Law, Business Math, Salesmanship, and Consumer Business were helpful classes. Four accounting classes were offered to get future CPA's off to a good start.

One staff change in the department was the departure of Mr. Gene Kiekhaefer at the end of the year.

Power volleyball is popular gym course

An enjoyable change from regular classes, the Roosevelt P.E. program allowed students to choose from a wide variety of sports, games, and mini-courses.

Mr. Robert Anderson, department head, said that one of the most successful activities offered was power volleyball, taught by Ms. Ann Miller. He noted that Ms. Eula Cole's horseback riding course was popular, too. Other activities included archery, lifesaving, synchronized swimming, and tennis. Students could participate in basketball, volleyball, weight lifting, and ping pong in the boys' gym.

Earning a driver's license takes time in class and car

One of the best things about turning 16 is finally being able to get a driver's license. However, an important (and required!) step towards becoming a good driver is the driver education class.

Mr. Gary Miller, Mr. Eldon Peterson, Mr. James Stark, Mr. Glen Steward, and Mr. Howard Vitteteaux taught driver education first semester. The course allowed each student to receive classroom instruction over driving methods, automobile safety, and traffic laws. Students also drove with their instructor and operated the driving simulator.

Work study gives on-the-job instruction

Entering the business world and finding a job is usually left up to the student upon being graduated from school. However, the Distributive Education program here gave students a chance to receive instruction coordinated with their on-the-job training. The work program provided that students devote their afternoon class hours to at least 15 hours of co-op work experience per week. The work took place under the supervision of an employer-sponsor and a teacher-coordinator. Mr. Nevin Bruce and Mr. Tom Zike handled Work Study for MD students, and Mr. John Outcelt the Distributive Education.

Stauffer and Lyman take charge of study hall

Students had a choice of study hall areas this year, with quiet study in the library and cafeteria and a more casual atmosphere in the student center. Ms. Ione Lyman, who retired at the end of this year, was supervisor of the sophomores in room 106, and Ms. Vera Stauffer was responsible for the juniors and seniors. Ms. Stauffer also supervised the game and pop machines in the student center.

Left: Ms. Stauffer and Ms. Lyman examine an attendance sheet. Below: Ms. Wells organizes the VTR room. Bottom left: Ms. Hutson checks out some audio visual equipment to make sure it's working properly. Bottom right: Ms. Gilchrist rearranges books in 219.

Aides offer services to classes

Three people who helped keep classes running smoothly here were Roosevelt's teachers' aides.

Ms. Lorraine Hutson directed the audio visual department. Her student staff assisted her in all delivery, repair, and inventory of the materials.

Ms. Ruby Wells was in charge of the VTR equipment and crew. In room 106, classes viewed video-taped films and television programs, or taped something of their own.

Ms. Catherine Gilchrist worked in room 219 and was responsible for the supplementary textbooks used in social studies and science classes. She also did typing for teachers.

Crouthamel becomes registrar

In her first year as registrar, Ms. Barbara Crouthamel's duties included keeping students' records, preparing and sending transcripts, and computing class rank for seniors.

Ms. Shirley Mitchell was new at Roosevelt this year and she served as the counseling department clerk.

In charge of keeping just about everything organized in the counseling suite was Ms. Marion Kempkes. Besides channeling activities, she made appointments, did typing, and helped with class scheduling.

Office staff efficiently handles a large volume of daily work

Working to make the job easier for administrators and faculty, Ms. Dolores Maertz kept the office running smoothly and with organization.

Ms. Eunice Ash acted as attendance clerk, keeping track of all absences and tardy arrivals to school.

As custodian of school funds, Ms. Shirley Robinette recorded club finances and activity ticket sales.

Cooks and custodians furnish good environment for learning

After 13 years at Roosevelt, Ms. Jessie Fairbank retired as cafeteria manager in October, to be replaced by Ms. Evelyn Cocking. Lunchroom management has changed little over the years, Ms. Fairbank said, but there has been much improvement in kitchen facilities and in the menus offered to students. Regular lunches were served in the cafeteria, but sack lunches from the student center were also popular.

Head Custodian Frank Uhlman supervised the Roosevelt service staff that swept the halls, kept up the campus, and did maintenance work in the classrooms. Installation of the new intercom system improved communications in the building, and expansion of the electronic monitoring system reduced break-ins and vandalism.

Go Where? You're Kidding!

Now wait a minute . . . we're not kidding. We are dead serious about your future college plans. Drake University offers special advantages for Des Moines students.

Come to Drake and live on campus. Think about the advantages . . . on your own but close enough to home for "emergencies" like borrowing the car or replenishing the bank account at a moment's notice. Think about the advantage you have over the out-of-towners who don't know the ins-and-outs of your hometown.

Think about the many educational advantages at Drake, too. At Drake we have six undergraduate colleges and schools with over 103 major areas of study to choose from. And when your college days are over, we'll even do all we can to get you a job. That's how much our students mean to us.

There's a lot more happening between Forest and University than you realize. Stop by and let's talk about your future. Or, if you're in a hurry, call us at 271-3181.

Go where? Go to Drake, that's where. So, who's kidding!

HEY, PEOPLE!

Everyone looks when the camera comes near!

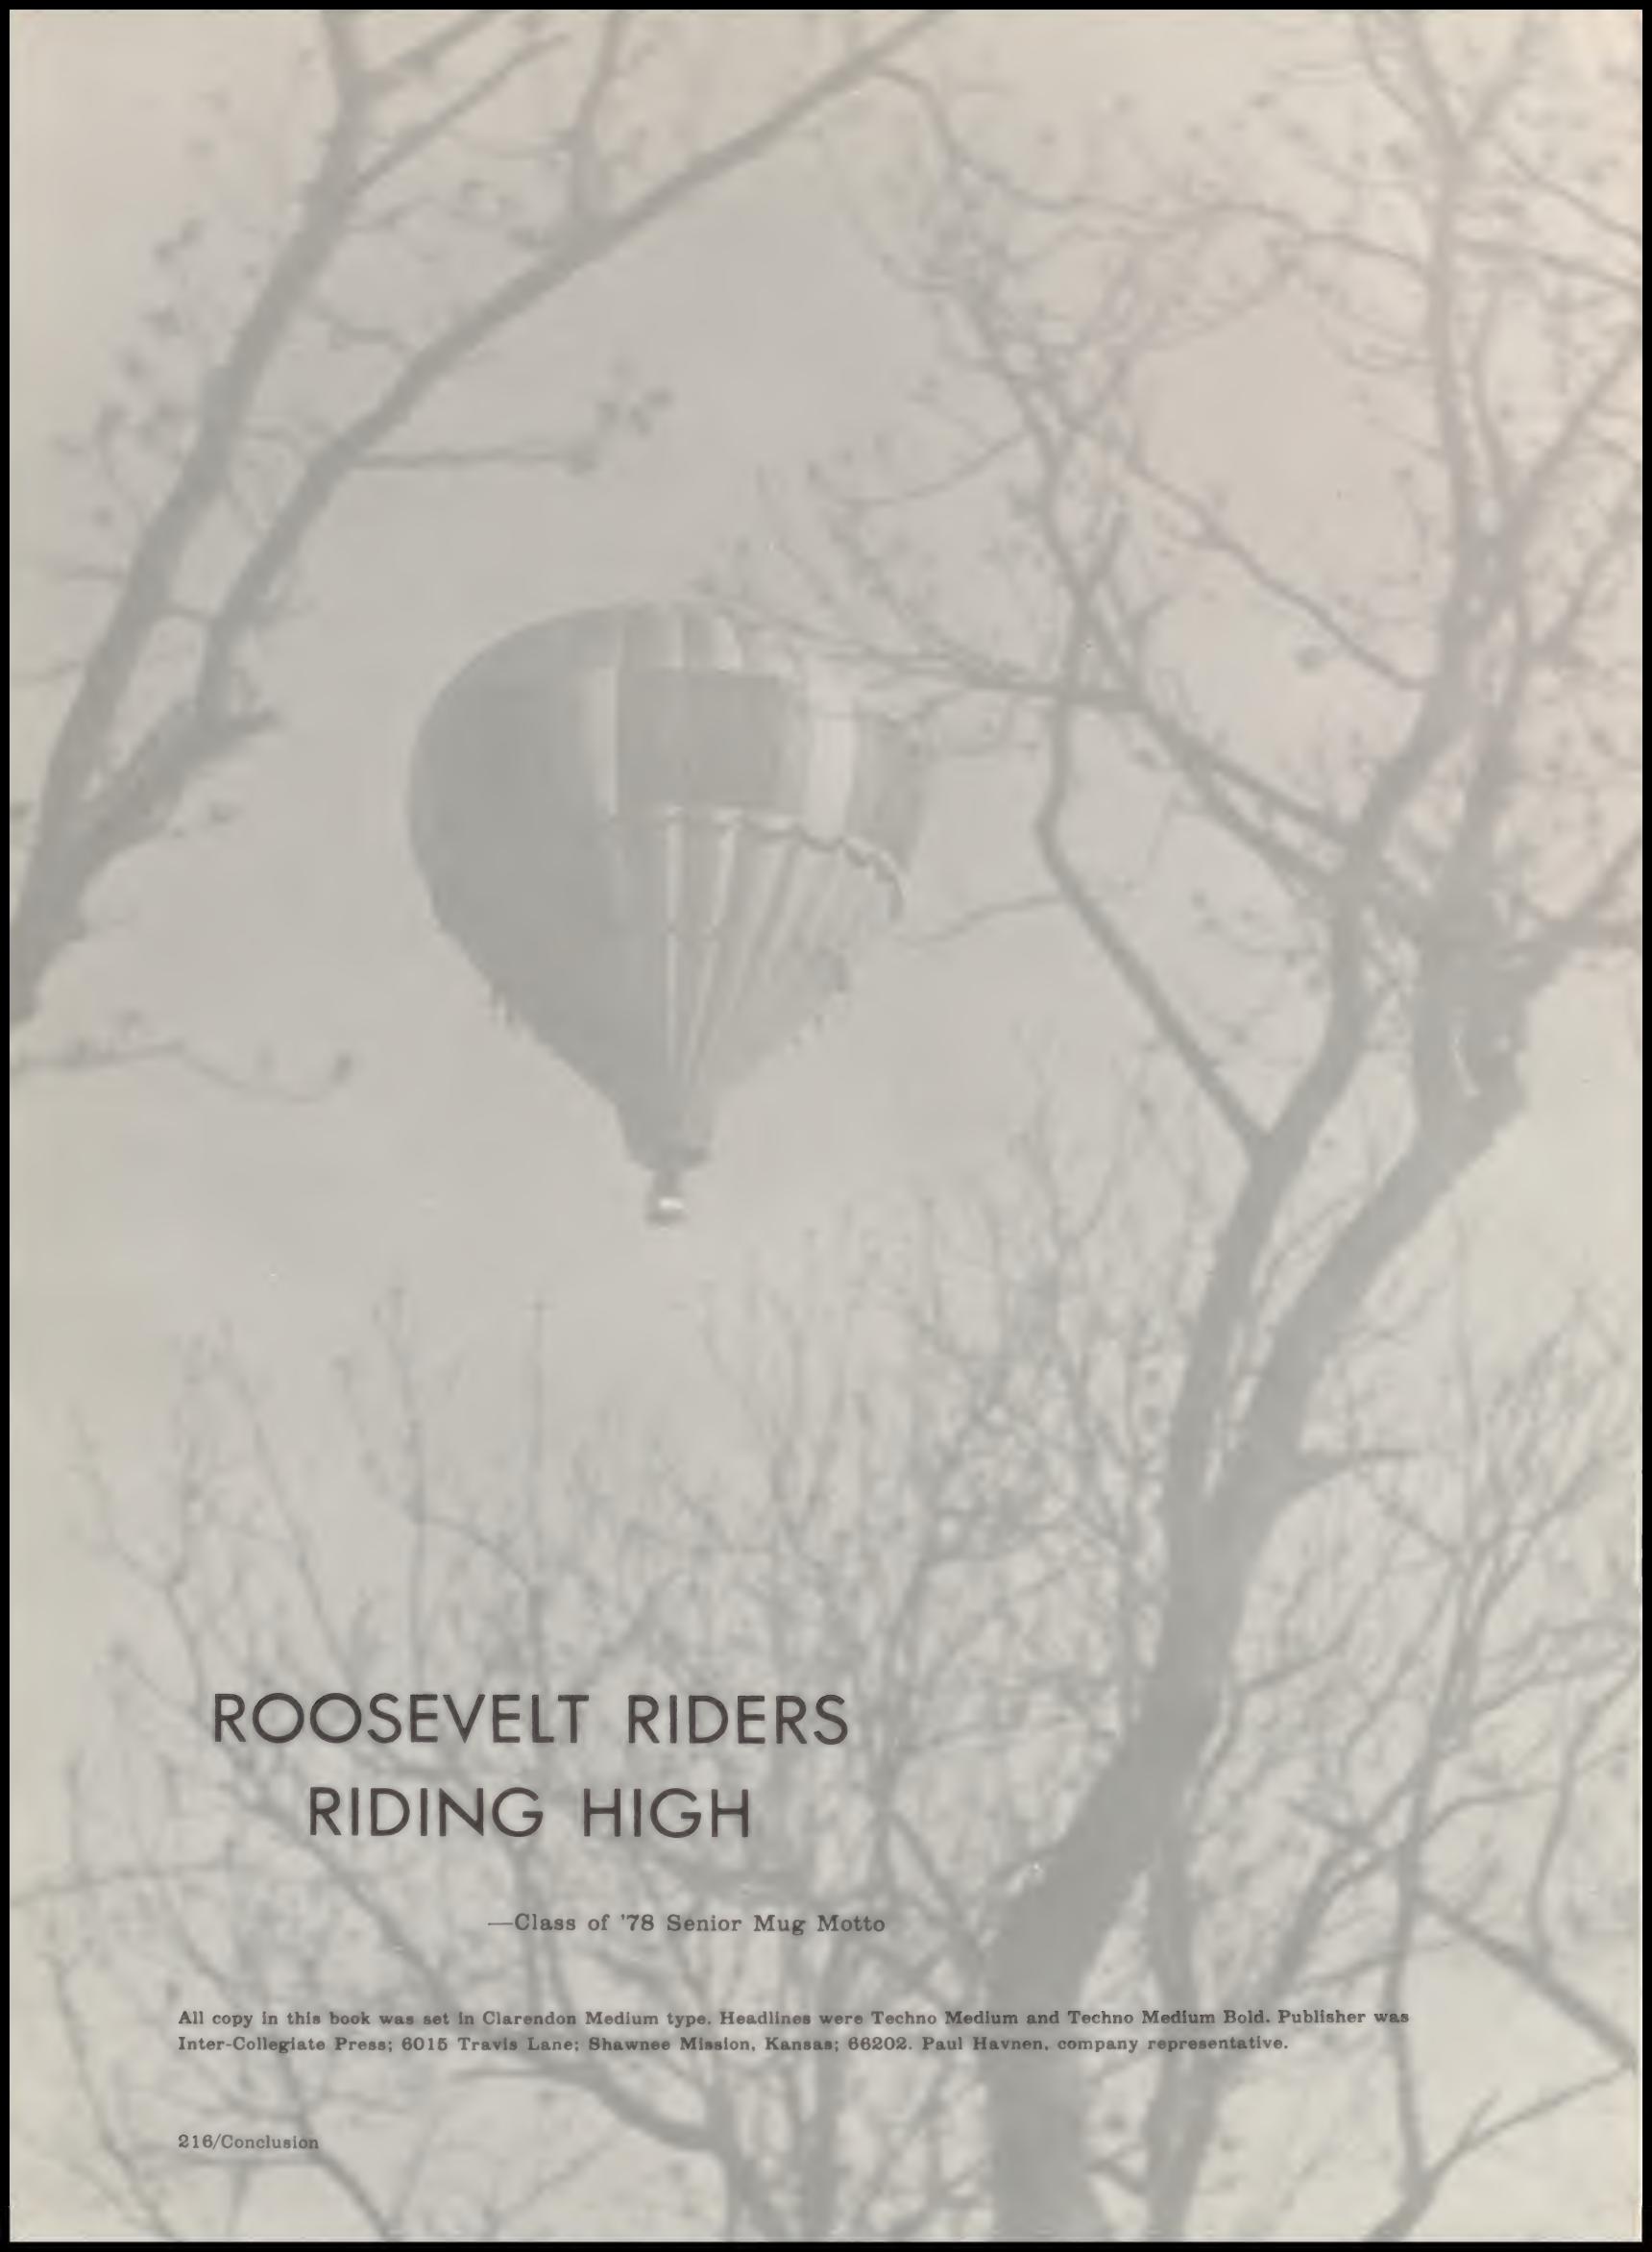

Faces are fun

Faces tell their own story at Roosevelt. It might be with a yawn that comes with the end of sixth period. Perhaps it's the concern the veteran coach shows as he confers with his young successor. Maybe it's the tentative expression of the senior checking the fit of her cap and gown. But whatever the situation or mood, the faces of Roosevelt tell a fascinating story.
